SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, February 10, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Regarding the change from $175 to $150 in the exchange value of 1915 Ford runabout awarded to Snow, Coombs & McBeath, Inc., January 26, 1920, would say that the price of $175 was secured from Snow, Coombs & McBeath, Inc., as the standard exchange value for the 1915 runabout.

It developed later that the price they quoted this office was for a 1915 touring car. The correct exchange value for a 1915 runabout is $150.

The exchange value of all Ford automobiles is absolutely standard, and is dictated by the Ford Motor Company to its agents. In view of these facts, the price was changed from $175 to $150 in the contract of Snow, Coombs & McBeath, Inc.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK S. DELAND,
Acting Superintendent of Supplies.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

These were emergency cases and the price to be paid is reasonable for the nature of the work to be done.

Respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

On February 19 to J. C. Coleman & Sons Company as per following communication:

BOSTON, February 17, 1920.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS.

EXCERPTS FROM THE REPORT OF THE JOINT BOARD COMPRISING THE COMMISSION ON WATERWAYS AND PUBLIC LANDS AND THE TRANSIT DEPARTMENT OF THE CITY OF BOSTON AS TO THE FEASIBILITY OF CONSTRUCTING A BRIDGE OR A TRAFFIC TUNNEL CONNECTING BOSTON AND EAST BOSTON.

EARLY STUDIES.

The feasibility of a traffic tunnel between East Boston and the city proper was considered by the Boston Transit Commission under the authority of chapter 247 of the Acts of 1907, which provided for an investigation of traffic congestion. Attention was given to the use of elevators to avoid steep grades or so long an incline as to impair the usefulness of the structure. It was the conclusion of the commission that such a tunnel would be subject to blockades, and that the slowest vehicles would measure the passage through. Said the report, "If a toll were charged, the teamsters would probably prefer the ferry service except in severe or foggy weather. It seems quite unlikely that the construction of such a tunnel would justify the discontinuance of one of the present ferries."

Proposed legislation to give authority to the Boston & Eastern Electric Railroad Company to construct and operate a tunnel under Boston Harbor was studied by the Board of Railroad Commissioners and the Boston Transit Commission, sitting jointly, under the provisions of chapter 110 of the Resolves of 1909. The Joint Board did not recommend the passage of tunnel legislation.

A Joint Board comprised of the same two commissions investigated the proposed construction of a teaming tunnel between East Boston and the city proper in 1911, under the authority of chapter 38 of the resolves of that year.

The conclusions of this Joint Board in 1911 were as follows:

The Joint Board is of opinion that the building of such a tunnel as has been suggested would not do away with the necessity of operating the ferries and that under present teaming conditions, with large use of animal power, the construction of a teaming tunnel would be inadvisable. This matter may, however, properly be reviewed when mechanical power is more generally substituted for animal power, since such substitution will do away with some of the existing obstacles to successful operation, and will render possible shorter and less expensive approaches with steeper grades.

FOUR-WAY TUNNEL RECOMMENDED.

The present Joint Board gave its first consideration to determining whether improved transportation should be provided by a traffic tunnel or the construction of a bridge, as suggested in the resolve.

The opinion of the army engineers having control of harbor improvements in Boston Harbor was strongly against the construction of any bridge with abutments in Boston Harbor that would in any way interfere with navigation now somewhat limited at the points where such abutments would of necessity be placed. The only other possible bridge construction would require an elevation with extensions into the center of the business section of Boston, practically making such bridge construction impossible.

For these reasons the Joint Board decided that its consideration must be given entirely to the character of tunnel necessary for service, and therefore directed its attention to the type of tunnel to be used, and a study of several possible routes. This study developed the possibility of three types of tunnel. The first type accommodates two lines of vehicles going in opposite directions; the second affords space for three lines of vehicles, two lines proceeding in one direction and the third line in the opposite direction. The third type consists of a double-barrel section of two roadways enabling four lines of vehicles to proceed, two lines in each direction with a passageway for pedestrians.

In the light of such information as we are able to secure our recommendation follows the third type as presented by the engineers of the two commissions, and we accompany this report with a plan exhibiting the third type, or double-barrel tunnel.

An examination of the plan for the third type of tunnel shows that the trouble incident to the use either of elevators or a long incline is met by a spiral on each end of the tunnel at a grade not uncomfortable for either motor or horse drawn vehicle.

The third type appears as route 10 in the table of routes, diameters, lengths, grades and estimated costs, at the end of the engineers' report to the Joint Board.

Our recommendation solves the difficulty of a blockade and the certainty of slow service, as suggested in the report made in 1907. Furthermore, it meets the suggestion contained in the report of 1911, that the matter may properly be reviewed when mechanical power is more generally substituted for animal power.

THE FINANCIAL ASPECT.

While certain engineering features bearing upon the recommendation as outlined above need still further consideration, the Board is convinced that its approval of a tunnel and the determination of a location mark an important step in working out this improvement. A careful analysis of the financial problem involved, not only in the construction of the tunnel but in connection with the service the tunnel can render to business as it now exists, and to the possible business to be developed through the improved facilities, is important. The type of tunnel recommended is deemed to be sufficient to meet the demands now incompletely met by the municipal ferry service, as well as to provide for future development. Even a casual examination of present transportation conditions reveals the serious waste arising from expense and delay in ferry operation. The importance of rapid movement for the large amount of raw materials that must pass between Boston and East Boston, for the movement of food and fuel quickly and in great quantities between these important sections of the city, is pressing for relief as never before.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts has a direct interest in improved transportation facilities from the East Boston section of the city through its extensive development now being carried on in the vicinity of Jeffries Point. The outlet at the East Boston end of the tunnel provides direct access from the tunnel to the large area which the Commonwealth is developing, and could not fail to be a factor in adding to the desirability of this big new water-front improvement for commercial and industrial uses.

The city of Boston has also a direct interest. The only method of transportation for vehicles between East Boston and the city proper, if we except the circuitous route through Charlestown and Chelsea, is by the municipal ferries of the city of Boston.

Previous to 1869 these ferries were operated under private ownership, and in that year the Legislature authorized the city of Boston to purchase them, which was done in 1870. The cost of this ferry service to the city of Boston, including maintenance, operation, new buildings, boats, piers, wharves, landings, interest on debt, etc., has amounted to approximately $14,500,000. The receipts from the tolls, head-house privileges, etc., has aggregated $7,500,000, leaving a deficit of approximately $7,000,000.

The only year that the receipts exceeded the expenditures was in 1877, and then by $93.88. On account of the increased cost of labor and materials the deficit has increased enormously; and due to the fact that substantial repairs on boats and landings were made in the last two years, the deficit for this period was approximately $800,000.

The city has now seven boats, and not over six of them can be operated regularly with the present terminals. Three of these boats are over thirty-two years old and of the old sidewheel operation, and must be replaced within a short time. The condition of the drops and piers will necessitate a large expenditure in order to keep the plant in operating order.

The Joint Board believes that immediate consideration of this problem on the part of the Legislature is most important. It has been impossible to work out a system of tolls or to prepare a method of financing the construction of the project in the time available to the Board. That an opportunity may be given for such consideration, the Board recommends that it be continued in power further to study this matter, substantially in accordance with the resolve submitted herewith.

ENGINEERS' REPORT.

DEC. 30, 1919.

To the Commission on Waterways and Public Lands and the Transit Department of the City of Boston.

In accordance with your instructions in regard to investigations and plans for a tunnel for vehicular traffic to connect Boston and East Boston, we beg to state that we have considered several alternative routes with various cross sections, grades, elevators and inclines. We submit herewith plans showing some of these routes which you may wish to consider.

We have taken advantage of a large amount of information which was available from investigations made by the Boston Transit Commission prior to the construction of the East Boston tunnel for electric cars, which data include maps and borings showing the character of the material which may be encountered along the line of the proposed tunnel for vehicular traffic.

TYPE OF TUNNEL.

We have given consideration to the question of a type of tunnel with a roadway 17 feet wide to accommodate two lines of vehicles going in opposite directions; also to that of a tunnel with a roadway 23 feet wide for three lines of vehicles; and to that of a double-barrel section of two roadways each 17 feet to accommodate two vehicles in each direction. Comparison of the sections show that:

1. The wider tunnel, when compared to the single narrower section for vehicles going in opposite directions, would permit easier operation of traffic; automobile traffic could pass the slower horse-drawn traffic going in the same direction, and thereby increase the efficiency of the tunnel.

2. During certain hours, should the balance of traffic be great in either direction, it could be so regulated that two lines could go in the same direction and a third line in the opposite direction.

3. Should a vehicle be disabled there would be less liability of a blockade.

4. Since the depth of the top of the tunnel below mean low water at the Harbor Commissioner's line cannot be less than 45 feet, and since the tunnel of larger section would have greater depth from the top of the arch to the roadway than the tunnel of smaller section, it follows that the distance along the tunnel from the Harbor Commissioner's line to the entrance of the tunnel would be longer, in case of the larger section, or else have a steeper grade.

For the same reason, viz., that the approaches would be unreasonably long and so far away from the harbor line, or else the grade would be unreasonably steep, it would not be practicable to build a tunnel with a single section greater than for three lines of vehicles. Should a tunnel of greater capacity be thought desirable it would be better to build two separate tunnels, each for two vehicles going in the same direction.

CAPACITY OF THE TUNNELS OF DIFFERENT CROSS SECTIONS.

The maximum number of vehicles going between Boston and East Boston on both the North and South Ferries is about 3 vehicles per minute, or 180 per hour. The amount of horse-drawn traffic and the amount of motor traffic are now about the same, with a tendency to a larger proportional increase in the motor traffic than in the horse-drawn traffic.

Assuming horse-drawn vehicles to travel at an average speed of 3 miles per hour and 50 feet apart, center to center, the maximum capacity of a tunnel having a roadway 17 feet wide for two vehicles going in opposite directions would be only 316 per hour in each direction. The speed of the motor vehicles capable of moving faster would be limited by the speed of the slower horse-drawn vehicles traveling at a maximum rate in each direction, which would not permit one vehicle passing another going in the same direction.

With a roadway 23 feet wide for three vehicles, two lines could travel in the same direction, with the third line in the opposite direction. Assuming motor vehicles to move at the rate of 9 miles per hour 60 feet apart, center to center, and the horse-drawn vehicles at the rate of 3 miles per hour as before, the maximum capacity of the 23-foot roadway would be at the rate of approximately 1,100 per hour in one direction and 316 per hour in the opposite direction. However, as the trend of the traffic at the hours of the maximum is about equal in both directions, it can be seen that the movement of single lines of traffic in one direction would limit the effective capacity of the tunnel.

With a double tube tunnel, each tube having a 17-foot roadway for two vehicles abreast, the maximum capacity would be at the rate of 1,100 per hour in each direction, or 2,200 in both directions.

The two-way tunnel hereinafter referred to means a tube capable of accommodating one vehicle each way. The three-way tunnel means one tube through which two vehicles may pass one way and one vehicle the other way. The four-way tunnel means a double-barrel tunnel with four roadways, two in each tube to enable two vehicles to pass each way. The last is the type of tunnel herein recommended.

SECTION.	Approximate Capacity per Hour in Both Directions (Vehicles).
One 17-foot roadway (two-way) tube, 25 feet diameter ¹	600
One 23-foot roadway (three-way) tube, 29 feet diameter, ¹	1,100 ²
Two 17-foot roadway (four-way) tubes, 25 feet diameter, ¹	2,200

² In this case this capacity could only be realized when the rate of arrival of vehicles was 1,100 per hour at one end of the tunnel and 300 per hour at the other end. As the number arriving at each side by the ferries is now about the same, the true capacity of a tunnel of this section would be reached at approximately 300 vehicles per hour in each direction, which is the same as the tunnel with roadway 17 feet wide.

Adams Square, across Washington Street, from Dock Square to Brattle Street,	200 feet at 4 feet in 100
Cornhill, from Court Street to Franklin Avenue,	270 feet at 4 feet in 100
State Street, Devonshire Street to Washington Street, north side of old State House,	140 feet at 4 feet in 100
Tremont Street, Winter Street to Hamilton Place,	150 feet at 4.2 feet in 100
Tremont Street, 65 feet north of Temple Place,	185 feet at 2.5 feet in 100
Washington Street, Court Street to Adams Square,	275 feet at 3 feet in 100
Beacon Street, Joy Street to Spruce Street,	695 feet at 5.7 feet in 100

ELEVATORS.

In Routes 1 and 2 we have considered the construction of elevator shafts, each shaft to be provided with four elevators for vehicles and with two elevators for foot passengers. In addition to these elevators it would be possible to construct an approach at a grade of 5 per cent, as shown, for the use of automobiles and light horse-drawn vehicles. Exceptionally heavy loads, auto trucks, etc., could use the elevators; but the cost of equipment and the expense of maintenance would be large, and delays might be caused by accidents and repairs to the elevator equipment. Elevators without the addition of an incline would also limit the capacity of the tunnel. A tunnel with inclined approaches from the surface, instead of shafts with elevators, would not be affected by shortage in the supply of coal or by the breaking of machinery, and would be more satisfactory in other ways.

Assuming elevators for exits and entrances to the tunnel without inclines, and assuming 210 seconds for an elevator to make a round trip, and the maximum capacity of one tunnel with the 17-foot roadway to be 316 vehicles per hour in each direction, elevators equivalent to accommodating 18 vehicles each trip would be required. The 210 seconds for the round trip of the elevator would be made up as follows:

	Seconds.
Loading,	30
Going up,	45
Unloading,	30

GRADES AND APPROACHES.

It would seem that under present conditions, with an increasing percentage of motor traffic, a grade of $3\frac{1}{2}$ feet in 100 for the approaches might be considered reasonable. A tunnel with a grade substantially less than $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent would bring the entrances or approaches so far away from the harbor line, or from the lines of greatest traffic, that it would be undesirable; for example, a tunnel coming from East Boston, passing under the harbor line at the Boston side in the vicinity of the North Ferry, and then going in a northerly direction at a grade of 2 per cent, would come to the surface on Causeway street, west of the North Station. A tunnel running westerly from the North Ferry would come to the surface on Cambridge street a little west of Charles street at Grove street.

The following list gives the grades and lengths of approaches to bridges over the East River, New York:—

	Approaches (Feet).	Grade (Feet in 100).
Manhattan bridge,	2,900	3.10
Williamsburg bridge,	2,500	3.00
	1,500	3.50
Brooklyn bridge,	1,562	3.25
Queensboro bridge,	2,600	3.40

The following is a list of some streets in Boston along which there are both horse-drawn and motor traffic of heavy loads. The table gives grades with their lengths.

	Seconds.
Loading,	30
Going down,	45
Unloading,	30
	210

As elevators do not seem to be as practicable as inclines, owing to their limited capacity and cost of construction and operation, and as they are liable to be put out of service by accident or otherwise, we therefore recommend the construction of inclined approaches from the surface.

STUDIES FOR LOCATION.

At the East Boston side (Routes 1 and 2) a very feasible place to come to the surface with a $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent grade is on Liverpool Street just southwest of Central Square, as shown on the plans.

Various spiral arrangements for approaches, as shown on the Boston side in Routes 4, 5, 6 and 7, have also been considered. These will bring the entrances of the tunnel on the Boston side nearer the present lines of heavy traffic than otherwise, and such locations will be unlikely to interfere with any future construction of railway or cross-town tunnels.

Route 5 assumes a two-way tunnel with a roadway 17 feet wide to be of sufficient capacity for the present-day traffic, with provisions for an additional tunnel at a future date when traffic conditions warrant it. The additional tunnel is designated by 5A.

The same assumptions apply to Routes 6 and 6A.

In Routes 4, 8, 9 and 10 the entrances at the East Boston side are at Sumner Street, which is nearer the wharves than the locations of the entrances of the other routes shown on the plans.

Routes 9 and 10 are drawn for a two-barreled section for two lines of traffic in each direction.

VENTILATION.

It is proposed to remove the stale air and the exhaust gases from motor vehicles through a large exhaust air duct beneath the roadway, provided with openings at short intervals from the roadway for drawing in the stale air and gases, these to be drawn out by fans located in chambers near each end of the tunnel. In addition, if found to be necessary, fresh air can be forced in at frequent intervals through openings in the fresh-air ducts in the top of the tunnel.

The openings from the fresh-air duct into the main tunnel, and from the tunnel to the exhaust air duct, are to be graduated in size from small openings near the ends to larger ones near the center of the channel, and spaced as may be determined, or they may be provided with valves or louvers to be opened or shut by some electrical or other mechanical device, as may be found necessary, by the traffic police or by the attendants. Fresh air would also naturally enter the tunnel at both portals.

COST.

The probable average cost per linear foot of a two-way tunnel having a capacity for one line of vehicles in each direction, without elevators, estimated on present prices for labor and material, would be approximately $935.

The probable average cost per linear foot for a three-way tunnel, to accommodate three lines of vehicles, would be approximately $1,250.

The probable average cost per linear foot for a four-way double tube tunnel to accommodate four lines of vehicles, as recommended, would be approximately $1,655.

CONCLUSIONS.

In view of the short time which has been available for the investigation, it has not been practicable to make and digest field surveys and borings, but many studies have been made based on borings and information previously made.

The most practicable route seems to us to be either from Central Square, East Boston, or from a point on Sumner Street near Maverick Square, thence under the North Ferry landing in East Boston and under the harbor to Battery Wharf on the Boston side, thence either by a loop coming to the surface near the corner of Battery Street and Atlantic Avenue, or by a route passing under Hanover Street or adjacent private property to a point near Cross Street. Before finally fixing a route, further surveys and borings and studies should be made.

In the light of investigations made to date we recommend a two-tube tunnel, each tube wide enough for two vehicles abreast, going in the same direction, and a walk for pedestrians with passageways about 5 feet wide, from the walk in one tube to the walk in the other tube, at intervals of from about 300 to 500 feet. The location of the tunnel and the cross section for the parallel tubes under the harbor to be approximately as shown on plan of Route 10, which is submitted herewith.

The cost of its construction, taking into consideration the present prices for material and labor, including land damages, is estimated to be about $10,700,000.

Respectfully submitted,

EDMUND S. DAVIS,
Chief Engineer, City of Boston,
Transit Department.

PURCHASE OF A VESSEL FROM UNITED STATES SHIPPING BOARD.

BOSTON, February 19, 1920.

REAR ADMIRAL WILLIAM S. BENSON,
Chairman, United States Shipping
Board, Washington, D. C.:

DEAR SIR,—Late last December I was informed that the United States Shipping Board had several ocean-going tugs and small vessels which it was proposing to sell to municipalities for the nominal sum of $1. On December 30 I wrote to Mr. John Barton Payne, at that time chairman of the Board, requesting further information and asking that Boston be considered in the distribution of these vessels in case the report was true. Mr. Payne replied under date of January 2 that the Board had offered no vessels to municipalities for the price of $1 and that the price of the ocean-going steel tugs ranged from approximately $225,000 to $240,000.

This morning the Boston Globe publishes the following news item:

NEW YORK POLICE PAY $1 FOR S. S. "PENOBSCOTT," COSTING $400,000.

NEW YORK, February 18.—The Police Department put through its biggest financial bargain today, when it bought the steamship "Penobscott" from the Government for $1. The "Penobscott," now at Norfolk Navy Yard, was built three years ago and cost $400,000. It will take the place of the police boat patrol.

While this item does not say that the transaction was effected through the Shipping Board, I assume that this was the case, and I am at a loss now in view of this news item to understand why Mr. Payne should have written to me as he did on January 2.

The City of Boston has a small vessel called the "George A. Hibbard," which plies between the city and Long and Rainsford Islands, where are located several of the city institutions. This vessel is very much out of repair and it is estimated that repairs would cost in the vicinity of $30,000. A number of engineers are now reviewing the situation and in view of the possibility that the institutions on Long and Rainsford Islands may be discontinued in a year or so, the city is reluctant either to expend $30,000 in repairing an old vessel or to pay out a larger sum to purchase a new one.

Obviously the best solution of the problem would be the purchase of a small vessel from the Shipping Board on the same terms as the steamship "Penobscott" was sold to New York City, according to the news item above quoted. Of course it is absolutely necessary that the city have a craft to carry supplies to the islands, and as the city's finances are in a very straightened condition, we must economize in every way possible, and were we able to secure a boat from the United States Shipping Board on the same basis that New York has secured one, our problem would be made materially simpler.

The "George A. Hibbard," which is now out of commission, is a craft about ninety feet over all. Any boat in good condition and approximately this size would meet our needs splendidly, and I wish at this time, as Mayor of the city, to urge upon the Shipping Board its most favorable consideration of my request that the Board allot to the City of Boston a steamer at a nominal figure.

Very truly yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

VETO—INCREASE FOR PROBATION OFFICERS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, February 11, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith returning without my signature the orders passed on January 26 to increase the salaries of the following probation officers:

Probation officers, Municipal Court, Dorchester District.

Probation officer for wayward and delinquent children, West Roxbury Municipal Court.

Probation officer for wayward and delinquent children, East Boston Municipal Court.

Probation officers, Municipal Court of Boston, as follows: Chief probation officer, first assistant male probation officer, second assistant female probation officer, 14 male assistant probation officers, 9 female assistant probation officers.

I have had this entire subject investigated by the Finance Commission, and this morning I received a preliminary report which shows that the salaries paid in Suffolk County are comparatively higher than the salaries paid in Providence, Chicago, Philadelphia and New York.

It is also noteworthy that the probation officers of Suffolk County have the advantage of a non-contributory pension system which entitles them on retirement after sixty years of age to half the salary received by them during the final year of service. This is a benefit which the other four cities mentioned above do not have.

It is also to be queried whether or not the future work of probation officers will decrease in view of the enforcement of the prohibition amendment.

For all of these reasons I find it necessary to veto the orders herewith returned.

Respectfully yours,

ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Placed on file.

ANNUITY FOR MRS. WILLIAM G. CLANCY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, February 13, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—On the evening of Thursday, January 22, Patrolman William G. Clancy was murdered at Roughan Hall, Charlestown, while in the performance of his duty. The law makes it possible for the city to grant to the widow of a patrolman of the Boston police force killed while in the performance of his duty an annuity not exceeding $600 per annum. I am sure you will all agree that the city should at the earliest possible moment make available to the widow of Patrolman Clancy, Mrs. Elizabeth Butterworth Clancy, the maximum annuity in the power of the city to give.

I therefore recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That an annuity of fifty dollars a month be allowed and paid to the widow of William G. Clancy, a member of the Police Department who was murdered at Roughan Hall, Charlestown, while in the performance of his duty, such annuity to continue so long as said widow remains unmarried, and to be charged to the appropriation for Police Department, Pensions and Annuities. The order was passed.

INFORMATION ASKED, HOUSING FACILITIES.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to inform the City Council what action, if any, he has taken on the order passed June 23, 1919, requesting him to examine into the feasibility of providing additional housing facilities.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN—Mr. President, last year, as you may remember, I filed an order asking his Honor the Mayor to look into the advisability of appointing a committee to examine into housing conditions in the City of Boston. I do not know about and never have been informed as to whether there were any facts in his possession concerning the matter, and have not learned of any action he may have taken on the suggestion by the City Council. But I was very much interested to see that tomorrow, on the initiative of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, a great housing conference is going to take place in Boston, and I think it is proper that we should again call his Honor the Mayor's attention to the fact that the City Council is on record favoring something being done to relieve the terrible conditions now prevailing throughout the entire city. Rents are increasing enormously, and there is a great lack of housing facilities in the city. It is important that the people of Boston should be afforded an opportunity to live as they should live.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

EMBARGO, EXPORTATION OF COAL.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN offered the following: Resolved, That, in the opinion of the City Council of the City of Boston, Congress should declare an embargo on the exportation of coal until such time as the production of coal reaches an amount sufficient to supply the demands of the consumers in the United States.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN—Mr. President, I am not given to filing orders petitioning or memorializing Congress or any legislative body outside of our own with regard to the propriety of certain action. I realize, as a member of the Legislature for six or seven years, the absolute futility of continually memorializing Congress to do this, that or the other thing. Ordinarily I do not think it is any of our business what Congress does. Those men are elected by the people and it is reasonable to think that they will know what is expected of them. But there are very important and vital questions as affecting the health, comfort and safety of our people which argue very strongly in favor of an embargo on coal until the danger point has passed. The gas situation, for instance, is directly connected with it. If it is true, as Mr. Storow has said, that the conditions under which coal is now being mined, distributed and sold are going to be removed the first of April, and if coal operators can then sell coal to foreign countries at figures of $1.35 per ton more than they can get from the consumers in this country, I think it is high time that an embargo was put on the exportation of coal, to prevent such action, which would be a menace to our people and our industries. Certainly we cannot calmly view the possibility of the coal of this country being sold under conditions that would amount to a broad world-wide auction sale, with all the possible consequences to those here earning their living by the sweat of their brow as well as other citizens. It is a very important matter for us to consider. Congress should look into it immediately, because today we are suffering from a terrible lack of coal. I certainly trust that the order will be passed.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION ASKED CONCERNING PRICE OF GAS.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to inform the City Council what action he has taken in the matter of the resolution adopted on January 16, 1920, relative to an examination of the books of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, and opposing any increase in the price of gas.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN—Mr. President, in reference to the order which relates to the gas company, let me say that the gas company in this city is now contemplating an increase in the price of gas from $1 to $1.20 per thousand cubic feet. Some three or four weeks ago I had an order passed through the Council asking his Honor the Mayor to introduce an order for an appropriation which would enable auditors to go over the books of the gas company and see whether or not it was justified in the claim it was making before the Department of Public Utilities. I seriously question whether the gas company can show just cause for that contemplated increase. I question whether it can prove that its overhead charges have increased to such an extent that it is warranted in increasing the price of gas to consumers in Boston 50 per cent within the last two or three years. The price went from 80 cents to 90 cents in 1917, from 90 cents to $1 in 1918, and they are now asking for 1919-20 another 20 per cent increase, making the price of gas $1.20 per thousand cubic feet. If the poor of the City of Boston cannot get coal to heat their homes and cook their food they have one other alternative and that is to use gas, and if the company is going to increase the price of gas it looks to me as though there was some collusion taking place. I think if an investigation of the proper kind is made by the Mayor and the city authorities they will find that through the interlocking directorates of the coal operators and mine owners of the country and the great gas-producing companies of this city and state the people of Boston and New England are going to be called upon to contribute far in excess of the proper amount they should contribute for necessities of life in their homes. It is the business of someone to find out the facts. All we can do as members of the City Council is to offer orders, which are weak things. They mean nothing unless we can force men in high public and political office to recognize the interests of the people of this city. I am not going to accuse anybody of shirking their duty. I realize, however, the far reaching power of all the corporate interests of this city and state. I have seen them working before, and I know how they are working today. But somebody is responsible, and if we cannot control the action of the Board of Public Utilities on the gas situation, we can at least wage such a contest as it is our duty to wage on behalf of the people, bringing the fullest amount of publicity and light of day on that which is taking place, which is nothing but an attempt to extort from the people moneys needed to sustain their homes. The papers of Boston should give the fullest publicity to the gas situation. I have read only one editorial upon it, sir, and it was not an editorial favorable to the position of the city government. There have been three, four or five hearings, and yet no one connected with the city government of Boston, to my knowledge, was invited to those hearings. The City of Boston had the Corporation Counsel or one of his assistants go there, but for some reason or other they have withdrawn from the case. I don't know the reason and I make no insinuating statements. They probably have had their reasons for their action, sir. But I do think it is incumbent upon the Mayor of Boston to send an order here to the City Council, which we will pass unanimously, appropriating moneys which will enable the city to employ expert auditors who will have access to the books of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, and they can make a report back to his Honor the Mayor and to us. We will thus be given the fullest opportunity to obtain the facts in connection with what seems to be a proposed extortionate increase in the price of gas. Such an examination cannot and will not be refused, and an expenditure in this way of $2,000, $3,000, $5,000 may very likely save the working classes of the city from being robbed of several millions of dollars. Just look at the situation today. The coal situation is a terrible one, on one side, and if people are obliged to look to gas and cannot get it, because of a raise in the price, what is the result going to be? It is the old story, nothing new about it, sir; but it is somebody's duty to see that something is done, and it is our duty to force such action if anybody is a little dilatory in taking the action. I ask that the order be passed under a suspension of the rule.

The order was passed under a suspension of the rule.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATION.REPORT OF FINANCE COMMISSION RELATIVE TO PROBATION OFFICERS OF SUFFOLK COUNTY.

BOSTON, February 11, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—The Finance Commission has received from your Honor the following request relative to the probation officers of the County of Suffolk:

At the present time there are in the employ of the County of Suffolk fifty-nine probation officers. It seems to me that under present conditions it ought to be possible to reduce the number of probation officers largely.

I am therefore requesting the Finance Commission to make a study of this general subject and to advise me whether or not it will be possible to make the reduction I suggest, and to what extent such reduction might be made.

The commission has made the study and presents its report herewith.

There are at present on the pay rolls of the County of Suffolk fifty-eight members of the probation service. The Central Municipal Court employs the greatest number—twenty-six—the remainder are attached either to the Superior, Juvenile or District Courts. Probation has been a part of the judicial system of the state for the last thirty years, but its evolution as a great factor in penal reform has occurred only within the last decade. Its development from a simple information bureau for the courts to a great supervising organ has been continuous, as the courts undertook deeper study of the causes of crime and delinquency. As the probation service developed, its effect upon the cost of maintaining jails and houses of correction began to be felt, and, although there was an increase in the cost of the probation service, the saving to the public in a decreased penal cost was much greater than the support of the probation work.

Deer Island is a fitting example, and the facts of its dwindling population since 1910 are too well known to need further elaboration as to the effectiveness and economy of a probation service.

In 1910 there were thirty-one probation officers in Suffolk County. The appointment of additional officers necessitated an appeal to the Legislature each year until 1913, when chapter 612 was passed, permitting the justices of the Municipal Court of Boston to appoint such assistant probation officers as they deemed necessary. A similar act (chapter 254, General Acts of 1915) was passed in 1915 for the appointment of probation officers in the District and Juvenile Courts. Since that time fourteen assistant probation officers have been appointed in the Central Court. The increase in number in Suffolk County since 1910 has been as follows:

COURTS.	1910.	1919.
Superior, probation service.....	6	8
Municipal, Central.....	11	26

The increase in the Central Municipal Court is largely due to the increasing number of persons brought before the justices for law infractions and to the development of the probation work. These developments included the establishment of a domestic relations division, with three officers, for the settlement of family difficulties, of the predicaments of unmarried mothers, and for the care and settlement of cases of illegitimate children. Another division deals with the psychiatric and medical cases under the direction of a trained psychologist and a physician, who examine offenders for mental defects and loathsome diseases and inform the court of the degree of responsibility of the offender and his need for physical isolation and medical treatment. Another division finds employment for offenders on probation and yet another section attends to the collection of money for non-supported wives and families. The work is intelligently organized and carried on under a capable director and two deputy assistants. An outline of the organization is shown in Appendix A.

The suburban courts are not so highly organized as the Central Court. Usually there is a probation officer for the men, one for the women and one for the juveniles. In only two (Roxbury and Charlestown) there are chief probation officers, so designated by the court, and they have general charge of the probation work in their courts. These chief probation officers receive larger salaries on account of this designation. In Roxbury the chief probation officer receives a salary of $2,620 a year and has five assistants; in Charlestown the chief probation officer receives $2,600 and has two assistants.

In the Juvenile Court there are four probation officers, two for the boys and two for the girls.

The Superior Court has a force of eight, one of whom is now acting as the chief probation officer.

The largest amount of the business in the criminal session of the lower courts has been the cases of persons arrested for intoxication. The number increased from year to year. Some relief was afforded by legislative acts permitting probation officers to release persons who had not been arrested for drunkenness two and later four times within a year. Criminals were not permitted to be released. As the right to release was discretionary, it depended upon the court and the probation officers as to the number released. A study of the data of releases in the various courts is very illuminating and shows how some courts interpret the law so as to permit of very few releases. Thus the following table shows that the Central Municipal Court for the year ending March 31, 1919, released 82.7 per cent of its cases of drunkenness, while Roxbury and Charlestown released only 15.1 per cent and 15.3 per cent, respectively. Chelsea released only 12.9 per cent of the arrested cases. South Boston, on the other hand, released 43.1 per cent and East Boston 38.9 per cent.

For the period April 1, 1919, to December 31, 1919, the Central Court maintained its standard of liberal releases (75.8 per cent), but the courts of Roxbury (7.8 per cent), Charlestown (14.4 per cent) and Chelsea (10.8 per cent) continued to lower their percentages.

* Release law does not apply to these courts.

The cases brought before these three courts (Roxbury, Charlestown and Chelsea) were large in number, but the law permitting release was not liberally interpreted and the "drunk" offender was obliged to appear in court for the disposal of his case. As the number brought before these three courts was larger than in other suburban courts, the opportunity existed for inflating the business of the court and thus increased the work of the probation division by placing large classes of "drunks" on probation.

Cases of drunkenness arrests in Suffolk County have fallen from 73,487 for the year ending September 30, 1918, to 43,832 for the year ending September 30, 1919. The largest decrease is found in the suburban courts since the taking effect of war-time prohibition. The Central Municipal Court always treated the release of "drunk" cases as largely a matter of clerical routine and placed all the emphasis of its work upon criminal and delinquent problems. In the suburban courts the resident "drunks" problem was the preponderating problem. Prohibition has caused a great shrinkage in the work of the courts and has reduced the number of probation cases.

The cases in the Superior and Juvenile Courts have also suffered a decrease in number from the effects of prohibition.

The total number of arrests has fallen from 90,594 for the year ending September 30, 1915, to 71,529 for the year ending March 31, 1919, and to 34,754 for the nine-month period ending December 31, 1919. The number of probation cases has also decreased in all the courts. The greatest proportional decrease, however, has been in most of the suburban courts. This decrease is shown in the following summary:

COURTS.	Probation Cases, April 1, 1918, to March 31, 1919.	Probation Cases, April 1, 1919, to December 31, 1919.	NUMBER REMAINING ON PROBATION.			Decline Since 1918.

* Increase.

The great decrease in the business of the courts gives rise to the thought whether or not the courts are overmanned and whether a consolidation of the courts would not promote economy of administration.

There is apparent opportunity for a decrease in the number of probation officers, if a consolidation of the courts of Suffolk County or of the probation offices is made, as the decreased business of the suburban courts can be taken care of by a circuit court and a central probation system. This consolidation of the various lower Suffolk County courts was recommended in 1912 (January 11) by a special commission of five lawyers, one of whom was Chief Justice Bolster, after an investigation of the inferior courts of Suffolk County.

The commission believes that the consolidation can be accomplished by the passage of an act by the General Court, providing for the unification of the municipal and district courts and for the combining of the probation offices under a chief probation officer for the county, excluding the Superior Court, whose jurisdiction is separate from the municipal or district courts. Until that is done it is doubtful if the Mayor of Boston can decrease the force of probation officers without the assent of the judges.

SALARIES OF PROBATION OFFICERS.

There is no definite standard of salaries for probation officers. Their establishment is largely a matter of imitation, the criterion being taken from the Superior Court, and the standard there fixed largely influencing the justices of the Central Municipal Court. Again, as the salaries of the probation officers are raised in the Municipal Court the outlying courts follow that example.

The Superior Court has not the highly developed system of the Municipal Court, nor have the suburban courts.

The standard having been set in the Superior Court, the salaries paid in the Central Municipal Court are not as high as those of the upper court, but compared with salaries paid in Chicago, Providence, Philadelphia and New York they are higher, with the exception of the chief probation officer in Chicago, who receives $5,000. See Appendices B and C for salaries in Suffolk County and these four cities.

The salaries paid in the Superior Court and generally in Suffolk County probation service are higher than the salaries paid in the four cities mentioned above. Besides, the Suffolk County probation officers have the benefit of a noncontributory pension system, which allows them on retirement one half their salary at year of separation from the service.

The Finance Commission believes therefore that no further increase of salaries should be granted to the probation officers until a consolidation of the courts has taken place and retrenchment of expenses is effected in consonance with the decrease of criminal business. This consolidation has been urged by many attorneys for many years, but on account of local prejudice the project has been defeated. An important element in the need and logic for such a consolidation is found in the overlapping of work of the probation officers of the central and district courts. An analysis of the probation cases in the central court shows that all sections of the city are covered by the central office, and that in some cases the central office has more cases in a district than the district court itself.

The following table shows this pointedly:

DISTRICTS.	Number of Probationers Within Different Juris- dictions on Probation in Central Municipal Court February 1, 1920.	Number of Probationers in Various Districts, February 1, 1920.
Roxbury.....	185	721
West Roxbury and contiguous locations	42	54
South Boston.....	93	131
Dorchester and contiguous locations	136	116
Brighton and contiguous locations	194	93
Charlestown and contiguous locations.....	233	302
East Boston and contiguous locations.....	87	190
Chelsea.....	32	293

Thus there seems to be no ground to support the argument that a local district court is necessary, because it knows the district more intimately than a central court. The commission believes that the time is now opportune for the reform and that the heavy burden of so many courts, with their staffs of officials and attendants, should be consolidated and the citizens of Boston spared the burden of supporting unnecessary duplications.

The commission recommends:

1. That your Honor confer with the Committee on Probation of Justices of the Superior Court, the Chief Justice of the Municipal Court, and the Secretary of the Massachusetts Commission on Probation, in order to recommend to the Governor the need for a special message to the Legislature dealing with this phase of Suffolk County administration.

2. That, pending the carrying out of this plan, no increases in salaries of probation officers be approved.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by GEORGE A. FLYNN,
Chairman.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS.

STATEMENT OF FINANCE COMMISSION ON SALARY INCREASES TO FOUR ATTACHÉS OF CITY COUNCIL.

BOSTON, February 27, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—The City Council voted this week to increase the salaries of four of its attachés by such large amounts that the Finance Commission believes your Honor should take immediate action to check this reckless disregard of the city's interests by vetoing these advances in salaries. Neither the positions nor the character of their work demand the salaries which it is proposed to pay. These increases violate the directions which your Honor sent on January 15, 1920, to all heads of city departments, notifying them that city employees "who have received no increase during the years 1918 and 1919" are to be increased by amounts "not to exceed $300 per year" and that those "who received any increase during the years 1918 and 1919" may receive "an increase not to exceed $200 per year." All of these four employees of the City Council have received increases in salaries in the last two years as follows:

	1912.	1918.	1919.	Proposed, 1920.	Increase.
Edward J. Leary, City Messenger..	$2,500 00	$2,800 00	$3,100 00	$3,800 00	$700 00
Frederick J. Glenn, Assistant City Messenger.....	800 00	1,400 00	1,600 00	2,000 00	400 00
John E. Baldwin, Clerk of Committees.....		1,500 00	* 1,600 00 2,800 00	3,500 00	700 00
Frank X. Chisholm, Secretary of City Council.....	1,800 00	2,000 00	2,200 00	2,600 00	400 00

* Appointed city registrar in Election Department, April 1, 1914, at $1,400 a year; elected Clerk of Committees, September, 1919.

All of these increases are made retro-active, so as to take effect February 1, while all other city and county employees' increases take effect April 1.

The first two positions, viz., City Messenger and Assistant City Messenger, are low grade clerical positions requiring neither skill nor training in the performance of the duties of the offices. Furthermore, there is no need for two such positions, as the City Messenger has practically nothing to do outside of the City Council meeting days, except to fetch and carry papers and reports for such few callers as may come to the city office for city documents and to arrange for the roping off streets on parade days. The city documents are in charge of his assistant, Mr. Glenn. The total present pay roll for these two positions is $4,700, and, if the proposed increases are approved, it will involve an expenditure of $5,800 a year.

In 1908 the Finance Commission recommended that the City Messenger's office be reduced and the City Messenger paid a salary of $2,500, which would amply compensate him for the duties performed. (See Finance Commission Reports, volume 1, page 213.)

The two positions of Clerk of Committees and secretary to the City Council (which is really Assistant Clerk of Committees) are similarly as unnecessary as the two positions in the City Messenger Department. Last autumn on the death of Mr. Dever, the Finance Commission called to the city government's attention the opportunity for saving money for the city by abolishing the position of Clerk of Committees and allowing the then assistant clerk (Mr. Chisholm) to take charge of the Council's committees' work. (See Finance Commission report, September 20, 1919.) The city government did not follow the advice of the commission to save $2,800 a year. It elected to the office of Clerk of Committees Mr. John E. Baldwin, an employee of the Election Department, and voted him a salary of $2,800 a year, which represented an increase of $1,200 over his former salary. At the same time it also granted a bonus of $300 to Mr. Chisholm, the defeated candidate for the place and the employee who had conducted the business of the clerk's office during the one and one half years of absence of Mr. Dever preceding his death. The fact that Mr. Dever was absent for such a long time and the duties of the officer were carried on, without criticism, by the assistant clerk shows conclusively that one of the two positions is unnecessary. To grant further increases to these positions is indefensible. The situation created by the City Council calls for action by your Honor so that unnecessary pay roll charges in the city's service may be curtailed as much as possible.

Your Honor, under the provision of section 1, chapter 486, Acts of 1909, has concurrent jurisdiction with the City Council in establishing these offices, for it is especially provided therein that they cannot be established without your approval.

The City Council also granted an increase, on February 9, 1920, of $500 to Mr. Harnden, the official stenographer of the Council, increasing his compensation from $3,000 to $3,500 a year.

In 1890, when the city government consisted of two chambers, viz., the Board of Aldermen and the Common Council, a contract was made with Mr. Harnden for reporting the proceedings and debates of every regular and special meeting of said Board of Aldermen and Common Council at a salary of $3,500 a year. The minutes of these two bodies for that year comprised 1,240 printed pages. In 1892 this salary was raised to $4,250 a year and later to $5,100. In 1910, when the present single chamber system was established, the salary was reduced to $3,000, because the minutes had dropped from 1,240 pages to 317 pages. His work was decreased two thirds.

He now attends about forty meetings of the Council each year and the meeting lasts about three hours. On the basis of his $3,000 salary he was paid approximately $75 a meeting, which included the transcription of the records. On the basis of his $3,500 salary he will receive $87.50 a meeting.

He is paid, in addition to his regular salary, the standard stenographic rates for reporting all the special hearings of committees of the Council, and for this work was paid last year $948.65. Besides, he was given by the City Council last year $750 for making up the index to the City Council Minutes. This work could be done in the City Clerk's office by the two clerks who now make up a special index to the City Council Minutes for the City Clerk at a present yearly salary of $3,800, and the payment to Mr. Harnden of the extra money would therefore be unnecessary. If he is allowed this increase in salary and the payment to him for the index work and the committee meetings is continued, he will receive a total of about $5,200.

The Finance Commission believes that your Honor would do well for the financial interests of the city by curbing the extravagance of the City Council and prescribing limits for the increases to its employees. If these increases are vetoed, it will prevent the City Council from making its employees exceptions to your rules for increases to city employees and will allay the open criticisms now being made of the City Council's action in giving undue increases to positions of minor importance and in advance by two months of the time when the other city and county increases take effect.

The Finance Commission recommends that your Honor confer with the City Council and eliminate these increases from the budget.

REPORT OF FINANCE COMMISSION ANALYSIS OF WORKING FORCES OF PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, February 28, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor:

SIR,—The Finance Commission respectfully submits herewith a report of its Consulting Engineer in which is contained the results of an analysis of the working forces of the Public Works Department at the present time, as compared with the independent departments now comprising the Public Works Department as they existed in 1909.

This analysis shows the reductions that have been made in the working force of the department and the rearrangement of the various employees as regards their duties. In certain cases, due to uncertainties in the records, it may be that an independent investigator would not arrive at exactly the same number in each case as shown, but it is believed that no change of conclusions can be based on any such variation and that the conclusions drawn are fully warranted.

A study of the table in the Consulting Engineer's report shows conclusively that during recent years there has been a decrease in the laboring forces and an increase in the supervisory forces, although with the decrease in the laboring forces there has been necessarily a smaller amount of work to be inspected and supervised. For example, as shown in the first column, containing superintendents and civil engineers, there were at the time of the consolidation in 1908, 27 engineers transferred from the City Engineer's Department to the Bridge and Ferry Division of the Public Works Department. The duties of this force were to design and supervise the general engineering work of the city for which no special engineering force existed, viz., the construction of new bridges, sea walls, civil engineering work at the ferries, and miscellaneous work. Although there is probably less work of that character in progress at the present time than ever before in the recent history of the city, and little if any work projected for the future, the force remains practically at its maximum.

One of the peculiarities of this force, as compared with the ordinary engineering forces, is that it consists almost entirely of the higher grades of engineers. For example, out of 25 employees in the force at the present time there appear to be only 2 rodmen, and to inspect the construction work of the city under charge of this engineering force there are only 3 inspectors. These proportions in themselves are an indication of the top heavy condition of the engineering force.

Again, in the engineering force of the Paving Service, there were in 1909, 12 engineering employees. Part of the work of this service, however, was taken care of by the city engineering force. On the forming of the Public Works Department in 1910 these employees were transferred to the Paving Service, making a total of 21 engineering employees. At the present time the pay roll shows 38, an increase of 17, although there appears to be little, if any, greater demand for engineering assistants than in 1909.

The supervising force of the Sewer Service has been increased from 63 in 1909 to 93 in 1919, and the inspection force has been increased from 44 to 47 in the same period, although the work now done by this service is probably no more than 50 per cent of that done in 1909. This reduction in the quantity of work performed is due to three causes:

1. The annual loan of $400,000 for the construction of surface drains, which has been under the charge of this service, has not been issued since 1917.

2. The greatly increased cost of sewer construction without a corresponding increase in the amount appropriated for that work.

3. The reduction of the labor forces of this service from 391 in 1909 to 154 in 1919.

In the group of mechanics and artisans there has been an increase from 35 to 54 in the Sanitary Service, principally in the shops of the service, although investigation has shown that the work accomplished is probably materially less in amount than in 1909.

Many of the men in the labor forces have been transferred to easier jobs, such as watchmen, stablemen and janitors. This has been particularly noticeable in the Paving and Sanitary Services. The total result appears to be that while there has been a net decrease since 1909 of 248 employees, the decrease in the productive force has been much greater, or 353, the difference being accounted for by additions to the supervisory and nonproductive force. It will therefore be seen that, although there has been a slight decrease in the total numbers, this decrease can in no way be considered as accomplishing economies.

The changes made have been such as to promote extravagance and inefficiency, except possibly in the Water Service and the Street Cleaning Service. The Water Service particularly has shown a substantial decrease during the past few years in certain groups of nonproductive employees. The situation is one that clearly needs attention in the interest of economy.

Some change of policy is necessary to reduce the supervisory and inspection forces to the proper proportion to the work actually performed by the department.

The Finance Commission recommends that the supervisory and inspection forces be materially reduced and that the unnecessary mechanics, artisans, watchmen, stablemen and janitors be transferred to the labor forces. This action, if taken, will eliminate the necessity for the employment of additional day laborers as now proposed.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by GEORGE A. FLYNN,
Chairman.

BOSTON, February 7, 1920.

To the Finance Commission:

GENTLEMEN,—On account of statements credited to officials of the city that have recently appeared in the daily papers, claiming a material reduction in the working forces of various departments, especially a recent statement that since 1908 there has been a reduction in the Public Works Department of 900 employees, and counter statements charging the existence of padded pay rolls, I have by instruction of the chairman attempted an analysis of the force of the Public Works Department, the results of which are herein set forth.

The large reduction claimed since 1908 seems to have been mostly all made in the year 1908. On the reconsolidation of the seven independent departments into the Street Department in 1908, a large number of names were found of employees some of whom apparently had never worked for the department, and others whose services were unnecessary.

Many names had been added to the rolls of the various independent departments previous to the election in the fall of 1907, although apparently no work had been done by the bearers of these names and they did not report for work after the new administration took office in 1908. As a result the pay rolls were cleared by the elimination of the names of 427 employees who had not worked in the department for at least six months and who were therefore considered out of the service under civil service rules; 20 more resigned; 89 were found to be dead or died during the year; 63 were eliminated on account of a rule of the department that considered absence without leave for a certain period to constitute a resignation, and 253 were discharged for various causes, including 153 lamplighters of the Rising Sun Street Lighting Company who had been temporarily on the city pay rolls, pending the making of a new contract for street lighting. Approximately 80 per cent of the reduction in the number of employees seems to be due to the consolidation of 1908 and only in small part to reduction since that time.

Taking into consideration the removals from the Water Department, the net total decrease in both departments appears to have been about 900.

As shown by the official reports of the civil service clerk of the Street Department and the official pay roll book giving the number of employees in the Water Department and the Engineering Department, it appears that there were at the end of the fiscal year 1908, 2,691 employees in the Street Department, approximately 600 employees in the Water Department, and 45 engineers in the City Engineer's Department that were afterwards transferred to the Public Works Department on account of the consolidation of 1910. The total number, approximately 3,336 employees, is directly comparable with the number of employees in the Public Works Department on January 16, 1920, which is given as 3,083, a total reduction of 253.

On account of temporary inflation of pay rolls in the year 1907-08, I have chosen the year 1909 to compare with the present time, as representing more nearly normal conditions.

In the appended table I have attempted to combine roughly the employees for the different years, 1909 and 1919, into groups divided according to those who are actually producers, such as laborers, and those in the nonproducing and supervisory force, such as engineers, superintendents, clerks, stenographers, watchmen, yardmen, etc.

Certain classes of employees are difficult to classify, for example, drawtenders, whose services are necessary yet who are not strictly producers. As their number has been constant, the drawtenders do not affect the comparison. Criticism may also be made that I have included in the producing force such employees as tollmen, gatemen, etc. The services of these men are necessary and cannot be dispensed with, although if they were omitted from the producing force the results that will be later shown would be even more strongly emphasized. I believe that the case will be strong enough, even if they are included with the producing force.

Considering the totals of the table, it will be observed that there was in 1909 a total of 3,374 employees in the Street and Water Departments and that portion of the city engineer's force that afterwards was transferred to the Public Works Department, the number having been increased from the low number of 1908 by some reinstatements and new employees.

The total number of employees in the Public Works Department January 16, 1920, was 3,083, a reduction of 291 employees from the figures of 1909. It should, however, be taken into consideration that in 1909 there was in the Sanitary and Street Cleaning Divisions a class of men known as "regular extra laborers." These men were employed only when their services were needed on account of absences from the regular force and in cases of emergency, such as snow removal and other unforeseen contingencies. In the Street Cleaning Division these men were employed with comparative regularity, and in the Sanitary Division during the winter season, but only occasionally in the summer season. As a result the records of the normal force of the Sanitary Division in 1909 show that there was a number of regular extra men, equivalent to the full time of 43 laborers, who did no work during the year. Therefore this number should be deducted from the decrease shown, making a net decrease from 1909 to 1919 of approximately 248 employees.

Considering in detail the various groups into which the employees have been classified:

1. SUPERINTENDENTS, CIVIL ENGINEERS, ETC.

The increases shown in the Bridge Division, Paving Division and Water Division are not subject to criticism without detailed analysis. The large apparent increases were on account of the division of the force formerly under the charge of the city engineer between the three divisions mentioned. It will be noted, however, that there has been an increase in 1919 of 47 employees in various engineering capacities over the total amount for the year 1909. This figure represents an actual and unnecessary increase.

As regards the Bridge Division, which takes charge of the general engineering work of the city, the amount of work done during recent years on account of the war and high prices of materials has been comparatively negligible. Nevertheless, employees hired for special work such, for example, as the Strandway job, have been retained in the service to increase the total of the force, although there was nothing of beneficial work for them to do. At the present time there was never perhaps in the recent history of the city so little engineering work in progress or proposed. Yet the force of the Bridge Service is allowed to remain at its present high point.

As regards the Paving Service, the engineering force is also overloaded, but not to so great an extent as the Bridge Service. The unusually large expenditures of the past two years for repaving in the down-town district has undoubtedly added somewhat to the number of plans to be prepared and to the engineering work of investigation and supervision. Nevertheless, a considerable number of the force could be eliminated for the year round without detriment to the efficiency of the department, and a still larger force during the winter months.

As regards the Sewer Service there has been an abnormal increase in the engineering force, from 63 in 1909 to 93 in 1919, although the contract work of the service, the work requiring engineering supervision, has been reduced practically one-third by the elimination since the year 1917 of the annual appropriation for a separate system of drainage. The total expenditure from loans for the fiscal year 1917-18 was $1,240,160.36, while the total estimated expenditure for the fiscal year just passed was $832,160.03. There is no question that the engineering force of the Sewer Service could be reduced in numbers to not more than fifty without detriment to the work performed.

There was expended for the fiscal year 1909-10 from the loans for Sewerage Works and Separate Systems $906,328.30, nearly all by contract. A comparative study of prices shows an increased cost for sewer work by contract of at least 80 per cent for the fiscal year 1919-20; therefore it appears that the amount of work requiring inspection in 1919 was approximately 49 per cent less than in 1909.

The Water Service also has been permanently increased by the addition of a portion of the force engaged for the construction of the high pressure water system. This enterprise seems to be in a moribund condition at the present time and a considerable number of the engineering force could be dispensed with without detriment to the service.

Taking into consideration the total number of employees, it is a safe prediction that at least 60 employees could be dispensed with without detriment to the department, with an annual saving of approximately $80,000. This reduction should include men of all grades, including some high salaried officials who appear to have no regularly assigned duties.

2. CLERKS, MESSENGERS, STENOGRAPHERS, METER READERS, ETC.

As in the previous group, the seemingly abnormal increase shown in the Central Office force is due to the consolidation of 1910, and does not represent an actual increase in the department. The increase in the Water Department is principally due to the addition of 25 meter readers.

The services of the greater part of these men are necessary on account of the installation of water meters, the number of which has increased from approximately 5,380 in 1909 to about 64,500 in 1919.

Investigations made from time to time show that the amount of work done by these employees compares unfavorably with the amount of similar work done by the employees of public service corporations, notably the Edison Electric Illuminating Company and the Boston Consolidated Gas Company.

Nevertheless, there has been an encouraging increase in the amount of work performed per man during the past two years and, if the force does not greatly increase and the installation of meters continues, in a comparatively short period of years the number of meters will increase to a total commensurate with the force of meter readers employed.

3. FOREMEN AND SUBFOREMEN.

The apparent decrease in this group is due to the reclassification whereby at the present time the employees of the Street Cleaning Service, who in 1909 were rated as subforemen, are now rated as inspectors. Giving due consideration to this fact, there has been an increase of 2 since 1909.

Taking into consideration the fact that the laborers of the Sewer Service have been reduced from 391 to 154, more than 50 per cent, there should have been a corresponding decrease in the number of foremen in the Sewer Service.

4. INSPECTORS.

The totals show a total increase of 34 in this class. A large part of this increase is due to the change in the classification of the employees in the Street Cleaning Service as previously mentioned. Nevertheless, there has been an unwarranted increase of 5 in the Paving Service, and in addition the force is retained during the winter months when there is nothing for them to do except the occasional supervision of snow removal by contract, whereas in 1909 all except those who could be beneficially employed in compilation and similar clerical work were laid off.

In the Sewer Service there has been an increase of 3 in the total, although the work of the service has decreased approximately 50 per cent as previously indicated. Moreover, the men are paid during the winter months without performing any beneficial work. As with the engineering force, the service is grossly overloaded and under present conditions at least 20 inspectors could be dispensed with the year round and a great number during the winter months, with a consequent saving to the city of at least $30,000.

5. DRAWTENDERS.

This group has remained constant since 1909 and no criticism is made.

6. MECHANICS AND ARTISANS.

The noticeable increases have been 6 in the Ferry Service, who may be doing some beneficial work, although the same work could be done at much less cost by employing temporarily men of the neighboring contractors.

In the Sanitary Service there has been an increase of 19 mechanics. This increase, considering the fact that many are not trained mechanics, but were given rating as mechanics in order that they might draw higher pay than in the labor force, is inexcusable. The matter, as the commission is aware, has been made the subject of a special report not yet issued. Savings of at least $16,000 per annum should be made by the elimination of the superfluous incompetents of this force.

In the Water Department there has been a notable reduction of 25 in the force of mechanics, principally in the reduction of the absurd force of plumbers formerly employed. Frequent criticism has been made in the budget reports of the Finance Commission of this force and as a result, due to the co-operation of the Division Engineer in charge, the force is now approaching normal proportions.

7. WATCHMEN, STABLEMEN, JANITORS, ETC.

The total of this group shows an increase of 8 since 1909. In the Sanitary and Street Cleaning Services, however, there has been a very marked and, with the exception of a few men in the Dorchester and Hyde Park districts, I believe unnecessary increase. The total of the two services was 59 in 1909 against 108 in 1919, an increase of 49. The small number in 1909 was largely due to the close co-operation between the Sanitary and Street Cleaning Divisions, whereby in certain stables and yards one force was made to do duty for both services. Also the drivers in the Sanitary Division, who worked on an average not more than 8 hours per day, were obliged to do more work in caring for their own horses than at present.

There has been a reduction of 22 employees in the Sewer Service, principally due to the elimination of various yards of that service, notably those formerly in Brighton and Dorchester.

In the Water Service there has been a commendable reduction of 16 employees. There could at present be a reduction in the Sanitary and Street Cleaning Services to or below the number in 1909, a considerably further reduction in the Sanitary Service and some reduction in the Water Service. The total reduction in this group should be at least $60,000 per year.

8. LABORERS, PAVERS, TEAMSTERS, ETC.

This group shows a total reduction of 353, although when the fact is considered that 43 of the laborers of the Sanitary Service did no work in 1909, the actual reduction is 310. This number is significant as compared with the total reduction of all employees, which is only 248, showing that for a reduction of 336 in the actual productive force of the department there has been an increase of 62 in the supervisory and supernumerary forces and mechanics.

9. STEAM ENGINEERS.

This force has been reduced by a total of 11, probably due to the reduction of the day labor force of the Sewer Service and to the adoption of untreated road oil for dust laying, whereas in 1909 the oil was manufactured into an emulsion with soap and water, requiring the services of engineers to tend the heating boilers.

10. CAPTAINS, PILOTS, ETC.

Officials of this group are the captains, pilots and quartermasters of the Ferry Service. The Ferry Service has been increased by 2, although the number in 1909 has been reduced by 2, on account of the elimination of the service of the tow boat "Cormorant." The total remains the same as for 1909 and no criticism is made of this group.

11. CONCLUSIONS.

In consideration of the evidence of the official figures herein presented, it is not a fair inference that the reductions made in the total of the force constitute economies, as the greater number of eliminations have been made from the working force and a large increase has been made in the supervisory and supernumerary forces.

Considering the effect of the employment of "extra" men, the custom of laying off superfluous employees in the winter season, and the payments for extra teams, it is extremely doubtful if there has been any reduction in the total number of days' work paid for over the amount for 1909.

Considering that the force in 1909 was probably not the lowest possible for securing the greatest efficiency, a saving in excess of $200,000 per year could be made at the present time by the elimination of superfluous employees, with a resulting increase in efficiency.

Respectfully submitted,
GUY C. EMERSON,
Consulting Engineer.

INCREASE OF PUBLIC DEBT IN LEADING CITIES, 1908-1918 (RANKING FROM HIGHEST).

The net debt in the 10-year period increased as follows: (1) San Francisco, $31,534,084 or 267.57 per cent; (2) Detroit, $11,561,738 or 118.10 per cent; (3) Baltimore, $32,797,853 or 98.40 per cent; (4) Cleveland, $23,673,565 or 72.59 per cent; (5) Buffalo, $13,026,177 or 61.14 per cent; (6) Pittsburgh, $20,912,039 or 58.76 per cent; (7) Philadelphia, $47,282,300 or 57.62 per cent; (8) New York, $348,840,074 or 50.97 per cent; (9) Boston, $12,596,050 or 17.11 per cent.

All of Boston's increase was rapid transit debt, representing a $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent investment. Omitting this, there was a decrease of \$3,849,927 or 5.23 per cent in Boston's net debt during the period stated.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS FINANCED IN BOSTON FROM GENERAL INCOME INSTEAD OF LOANS.

In the seven fiscal years, 1912-18, inclusive, the total expenditures from general income for various improvements (such as were formerly financed from loans) amounted to $9,737,062 or $3,651,787 for new schoolhouses, etc., $2,674,850 for streets, sidewalks and bridges; $1,436,812 for public buildings; $1,225,988 for parks, playgrounds, etc., and $747,625 for other objects.

APPROPRIATION FOR NEW FERRY-BOAT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 1, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—The condition of the East Boston ferries must have immediate attention. Out of a total of seven boats three are over thirty years of age and three are about twenty years old, and only one of these boats is of sufficient size to carry a reasonable number of vehicles. At the present time the Public Works Department is altering the superstructure of the "John H. Sullivan" to increase its teaming capacity about 60 per cent. "The Noddle Island" has been ordered out of service by the Federal authorities and it is a question whether or not it can ever again be economically put into service. A board of marine experts is making an examination of the boat to determine the question of its further use.

The work of rehabilitating the ferry service must be commenced at once and a new boat for the service should be provided as soon as possible. I therefore recommend the immediate passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Ordered, That the sum of $400,000 be and hereby is appropriated for the construction of a new ferry-boat and runways, the same to be met from the unappropriated cash remaining in the treasury January 31, 1920.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

BRIDGES, REPAIRS, ETC.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 1, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting a statement from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to an appropriation for bridges, repairs, etc. This appropriation has not been included in the regular budget as it is necessary that the sums be made immediately available, as the Commissioner of Public Works can make contracts at this time more advantageously than he probably would be able to make them in the course of a month.

As the Public Works Department desires to use these funds at once, I urge the prompt passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Public Works Department, February 25, 1920.
To the Honorable the Mayor:

I respectfully recommend that a special appropriation of $45,000 be made, to be added to the existing appropriation for bridges, repairs, etc.

This will enable us to commence on the absolutely necessary repairs at Warren Bridge and Brookline Street Bridge and the repairs to the sidewalks on Harvard Bridge, which are in an unsafe condition. Bids have just been opened for the work on Warren Bridge, but sufficient money is not available to let the contract.

Yours respectfully,
T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Ordered, That to meet the expense of bridge repairs, etc., the sum of forty-five thousand dollars ($45,000) be and the same hereby is appropriated for the purpose stated, and that the said amount be raised by taxation on the polls and estates taxable in the City of Boston.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

EXTENSION OF BUILDING LIMITS IN BRIGHTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 1, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting to your honorable body, for whatever action you may desire to take, a petition received from certain residents of the Faneuil district in Brighton in favor of the extension of the building limits so as to take in the remaining sections of Wards 25 and 26 not at present included.

Respectfully,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.
Appended was the petition referred to.

NEW POLICE STATION HOUSE, DIVISION 2.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, February 20, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—On February 9 I sent to the City Council a message recommending the passage of an order to authorize the City of Boston to acquire the plot of land at the corner of Milk and Sears streets for a site for a new station house for Police Division 2. As far as I can learn no positive action has been taken on this matter although the City Council has now had the matter before it for eleven days.

As I pointed out in my message, the new site for Police Station 2 is a particularly desirable one and meets with the complete approval of the Police Commissioner. Not only can the site be acquired for a figure far less than the original cost of the land now owned by the city at the corner of Arch street and Hawley place, but the latter property can be sold at least at the purchase price and probably at a profit, thus effecting a material saving to the city in the cost of the site for Station 2.

I have just received a letter from the treasurer of the Central Wharf and Wet Dock Corporation, the owners of the property at the corner of Milk and Sears streets, stating that other parties have approached them in the matter of the purchase of this land. I am further informed by the treasurer of the corporation that in all likelihood I dispose of the property at a figure considerably higher than the city will be required to pay for it, and the treasurer has requested that I set March 31, 1920, as a date after which the corporation will be relieved of any obligation under which it now finds itself to the city, in order that it may negotiate with other prospective purchasers.

It is therefore essential in the best interests of the city that immediate favorable action be taken on the orders submitted with my message of February 9 on this matter. As there seems to be no good reason for delay, I hope the Council will act immediately.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.
Placed on file.

VETO OF PENSION TO EDWARD RILEY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, February 16, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith returning without my signature the resolution passed by the City Council on February 9 placing itself on record in favor of legislative action to authorize the City of Boston to pay to Edward Rielly, an employee of the Board of Overseers of the Poor, a pension of $800 per annum. I am vetoing this resolution as I believe its principle is inconsistent with the principles I have expressed previously in cases where the granting of a pension would constitute a special privilege.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.
Placed on file.

LOAN FOR HIGHWAYS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, February 28, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am attaching a communication from the Street Laying-Out Department relative to an appropriation of $400,000 for the making of highways and I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Street Laying-Out Department,
February 28, 1920.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,

Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—The Board of Street Commissioners respectfully requests that a loan be made for highway improvements within the debt limit as is annually done. Last year this loan was $800,000. This sum could be expended to good advantage now. The Board appreciates, however, that the borrowing capacity of the city has been greatly reduced, and does not ask for this amount. The sum of $400,000, at least, ought to be made available for this department for highway purposes for this year.

Very truly yours,
JOHN J. O'CALLAGHAN, Chairman.

Ordered, That the sum of $400,000 be and hereby is appropriated for Highways, Making of, under the provisions of chapter 393 of the Acts of 1906, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be and hereby is authorized to issue, from time to time, upon the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

LOAN FOR SEWERAGE WORKS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, February 28, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am attaching a communication from the Commissioner of Public Works relative to an appropriation of $800,000 for the construction of sewerage works in this city, and I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Public Works Department, February 28, 1920.
To the Honorable the Mayor:

I respectfully recommend that the City Council be requested to appropriate the sum of $800,000 for the construction of sewerage works in this city during the present year.

Yours respectfully,
T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Ordered, That under the provisions of chapter 426 of the Acts of 1897, as amended by chapter 204 of the Acts of 1908, the sum of $800,000 be and hereby is appropriated to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Public Works for sewerage works, and that to meet said appropriation the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, on the request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

Referred to the Committee on Finance.

ADDITIONAL HOUSING FACILITIES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, February 28, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I have received the order passed by the City Council on February 16 inquiring what action I have taken on the order passed on June 23, requesting me to examine into the feasibility of providing additional housing facilities.

On receipt of your order of June 23 I went into this matter at some length. It appeared to me that it would be unwise for me to attempt to conduct any investigation in this matter as there seemed to be no legal way in which the city could provide additional housing facilities.

I took this matter up with the Corporation Counsel and my opinion in this matter was confirmed, for it is apparent that the circumstances are not such at the present time so as to make it within the legal and constitutional powers of the city government to expend money for the purpose proposed.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.
Placed on file.

EXAMINATION OF BOOKS OF CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, February 25, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—In response to the following order adopted at your last meeting,

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to inform the City Council what action he has taken in the matter of the resolution adopted on January 16, 1920, relative to an examination of the books of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, and opposing any increase in the price of gas."

On December 2, 1919, the Boston Consolidated Gas Company brought before the Department of Public Utilities a petition for increase in the standard price of gas from $1 to $1.20. Notice of hearing on this petition was duly received by the city on December 18, 1919, and subsequent hearings were held thereon on December 30, 1919, and January 6, 1920. In these proceedings the city was represented by Assistant Corporation Counsel Joseph P. Lyons, acting under the direction of the Corporation Counsel, and objection was entered by the city to the proposed increase.

Subsequently it was suggested by the commissioners that they would be glad to have an expert examine the books of the company on behalf of the city. A number of conferences concerning this question were held between Mr. Lyons and the Corporation Counsel, representing the city, and members of the commission, as a result of which it was decided to employ Arthur D. Little as expert to make an investigation of the plant and general condition of the affairs of the company and with reference to what improvement had been made in the art of gas manufacture, and to make such further investigation of the business of the gas company as would shed any light upon what action should be taken by the commission in respect to the company's petition. It was also decided to employ Messrs. Patterson, Teele and Dennis as experts to examine the books.

On February 13, 1920, a conference was held between the Corporation Counsel and Mr. Lyons, representing the city, and the commissioners and experts employed by the city, at which the course to be followed was laid down.

During the whole course of proceedings I have been in constant conference with the Corporation Counsel on the matter, and at no time has there been any danger that the standard price of gas would be increased until the city was given ample opportunity to participate in the investigation of the questions involved, and to be assured that the rights of the consumer were adequately presented.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

ESTIMATES FOR ANNUAL BUDGET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 1, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen.—In accordance with section 3 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, I submit herewith the estimates of the several departments for the fiscal year 1920-21 with my recommendations thereon.

I submit also the basis of estimates showing the amount that can be raised within the present tax limit for general purposes and the amount of estimated income for the current fiscal year.

This year the tax limit of $6.52 on the thousand for general municipal purposes has been raised by legislation to $10.52 on the thousand. The amount that can be raised by taxes within the limit of $10.52 is $15,673,409.86, to which should be added the estimated income of $5,225,000 and the surplus of $3,769,327.65. Of this sum I recommend the appropriation of $22,603,358.41, the total of the budget estimates for municipal purposes.

It is pertinent to remark at this time that the yield from the tax limit of $10.52 on the thousand plus estimated other income falls far short, as predicted, of the budget requirements. It is therefore exceedingly fortunate that the city closed the last financial year with a considerable surplus. The existence of this surplus is of the greatest importance for this year; the debt incurring power of the city is approximately $1,800,000 less than it was last year, a reduction of almost 50 per cent, and a few of the more important capital improvements which have been planned for some time must be undertaken this year. At the same time the heavy snow falls during this winter will cost the city an unusually large amount, it being the intention of the Commissioner of Public Works to request an additional appropriation of $200,000 to cover the cost of snow removal. I know it will be a source of satisfaction to many to know that I plan to recommend an appropriation of $400,000 for the purchase of a new ferryboat for the East Boston service. But for the existence of the surplus all of these improvements would be impossible, and it would have been impossible under the tax limit of $10.52 to have given any of the much deserved salary and wage increases that have been granted this year.

The city plans this year to continue the policy of further motorization of the Fire Department. To this end I have approved of an appropriation of $150,000 in the budget of the Fire Department, for I feel that the further motorization of the department should go on as rapidly as possible.

It will also be noted that there are a number of unusual appropriations in the budget of the City Hospital. I have allowed these as not only will they in many instances result in great economies but, more important, they will permit the City

Hospital to more efficiently discharge its function of caring for and improving the health of the community at large. One item of $40,000 is allowed for the installation in the power house at the hospital of an oil-burning equipment. The installation of this equipment will, it is estimated, effect a very large saving annually in the fuel cost at the hospital.

The most important function of the modern hospital aside from the immediate care of the patients under its supervision, is in the sphere of preventive medicine. As far as possible the City Hospital has cared for every patient who applied for treatment. For the purpose of scientific investigation the sum of $5,000 is being allowed, and the benefit of this type of research should be great.

The sum of $30,000 is also allowed in the budget in order that the present measles ward in the South Department may be converted into an isolation building. At the present time the children are received into the South Department for one disease and because of the lack of isolation they are frequently exposed and seized with other communicable diseases. For instance, a child may come in with measles and shortly develop whooping cough, scarlet fever or diphtheria. This is a situation which should not be permitted to exist, and with a ward in which a child may be isolated in the South Department until the danger of cross-infection is over, a great economic saving to the community will result.

As all of the salary increases are figured on the basis of April 1 in the case of employees on a monthly basis, and April 2 in the case of employees on a weekly basis, I hope the City Council will be able to finally adopt the budget prior to that time.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

INCREASE FOR CITY COUNCIL OFFICERS.

Coun. WATSON offered an order—That until otherwise ordered the annual salaries of the officers connected with the City Council be established as follows, beginning with the first day of February, 1920:

Clerk of Committees	$3,500 00
Secretary to the City Council and Assistant Clerk of Committees	2,600 00
City Messenger	3,800 00
Assistant in the office of the City Messenger	2,000 00

The question came on giving the order a second reading.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, the purpose of that order is to perfect the action of the Executive Committee one week ago when they voted, although I was absent, to increase the salaries of the attachés of our own personal staff according to the figures given in the order. They are already in the budget. In view of the fact that it is necessary to pass an order to make them operative, I offer that order for the Executive Committee.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, on the order in question I am going to vote no. I do this with some degree of hesitation, believing that there is justice and merit in the increase granted to employees of the City Council. I am in favor of what I consider to be a limited and fair increase, and to my mind the amount as decided upon finally and listed in the budget is a little bit beyond what I consider fair. I am not going to make any extended argument in defence of these reasons beyond the fact that I want to say that every item in the budget, in my judgment, should be scrutinized. I consider that great economy and care should be exercised, for I believe that the laborers in the employ of the City of Boston should have been awarded a daily wage of $4.50 by the Mayor. The budget calls for but $4. It is my individual purpose—a purpose in which I anticipate, hope and feel that the majority if not all the members of the body will join with me—to endeavor to save enough money by not appropriating all the money provided for in the budget so that the Mayor can, if he sees fit, give the city laborers $4.50 a day. If we are going to try to save money for that purpose we must look diligently in all directions to obtain the money for that purpose, giving meritorious increases to deserving employees but not making the amount excessive. To my mind the city laborers should be our first thought now, as they usually are our first thought when we are campaigning. I think we ought to exercise judgment. It is for that specific reason, because I think I can now see an opportunity to save a little money in this direction for that good purpose that I vote no on this proposition.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, it is not my intention to say anything in reply to what the gentleman has said in regard to the order. But he knows full well that this is the only department in the entire city where we can initiate an increase of salary, and also knows that every member of this body, if he had it in his power to do so, would vote to increase the salary of every deserving employee of the city and of the County of Suffolk, where we have some control. He suggests saving money in the budget to take care of the increase from $4 to $4.50 a day of the laborers. I suggest to him that he get in touch with the Mayor and have an agreement with him that, provided we can save sufficient money in paring the budget, the Mayor will use the savings we make in so paring for the purpose of increasing the salaries of the laborers, not leaving it, as has been suggested, in the position of simply passing the buck to the Mayor. We have under us faithful employees. It has been suggested by the Finance Commission that they do not perform any important duties, simply performing clerical work. I want to say that our Clerk of Committees fills as important a position with reference to the taxpayers' interests as any other head of a department in the City of Boston. He has to take charge of all the claims and all orders and awards in the matter of claims. He has to take care of all the records of the Council committee meetings and put in shape all the orders that go before this body. He acts between the Mayor and this body in the matter of orders coming from the Mayor's office in many cases, and he has proven himself to be as efficient, if not the most efficient Clerk of Committees we have ever had. The Mayor has seen fit to withdraw a certain sum from the Clerk of Committees' salary by having somebody else perform the duties of director of celebrations. In consequence of that the salary of the Clerk of Committees is down to less than that of an ordinary head of a department. The City Messenger is performing his duties properly. He is on the job. That is true of his assistant, and of all our officers. We are not going to increase the laborers' pay one nickel by tearing off a few dollars from the only salary increases we can initiate. I say this without any attempt to be offensive to the gentleman opposite. The Council to a man is prepared to vote a living wage to every man, woman and child in the city's service, if it is within its power, and no one member has any right, nor should he attempt, to monopolize good deeds in the way of giving the employees of the city a living wage. I am going to vote yes on this order, for I believe in giving employees of the city a standard wage equal to that which would be given for the same kind of work outside.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

INFORMATION REQUESTED OF FINANCE COMMISSION.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Finance Commission, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to send to each member of the City Council by Monday, March 8, the Finance Commission report and recommendations upon the various items which will appear in the budget for the coming fiscal year.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ASHES AND GARBAGE COLLECTION IN OTHER CITIES.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to inform the City Council what are the rules and regulations and customs of collecting ashes and garbage in New York, Philadelphia, St. Louis and Chicago, and what co-operation is demanded in these cities from the tenants and householders to co-operate with the city department.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

STUDY OF EAST BOSTON FERRY CONDITIONS.

Coun. HAGAN offered the following:
Ordered. That the Commissioner of Public Works, through his Honor the Mayor, be requested to make a complete study of the East Boston ferry conditions and report to the City Council as to the physical condition of the ferryboats and the plant in general, and advise the City Council what is required to get the East Boston ferry service in a satisfactory condition to meet the requirement of the public and business interests of East Boston, and what would be the approximate cost to properly equip the service so that we may get the desired results.

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to grant a public hearing to the public and business interests of East Boston upon the subject matter of the present unsatisfactory condition of the East Boston ferryboat and docks, and the general service and that in addition to the people of East Boston the members of the City Council, the chairman of the Finance Commission and the Waterways Commissioner will be invited to attend this hearing, with the object in view of deciding upon ways and means to better the conditions of the East Boston ferries and the service of same, to properly meet the requirements of the business interests of the East Boston section.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, these orders were presented to and were passed by this Council on July 21, 1919, and ever since then I have been looking for some answer from the head of a department, through the Mayor's office, in regard to the conditions of the East Boston ferry service. Up to the present time there has been no reply received by this Council to those orders as passed last July. My object in introducing them today is to repeat this request of the head of the department of Public Works, through the Mayor's office, with the hope that upon the second request we will get some action. This is brought about because a delegation of East Boston citizens have seen Coun. Ford and have asked him to have some action taken upon this matter, and at his suggestion I am again presenting the orders of last July.

The orders were passed under suspension of the rule.

On February 16, 1920, the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 8, nays 0.

As the minor districts have no fixed boundaries, their population can be reckoned only by grouping such precincts as are commonly assumed to belong to them. The superintendent of mails, Boston Post Office, has a system of mail delivery whereby the Boston postal district is divided into 84 sub-districts, extending northerly to include Stoneham, easterly including Winthrop, southerly including South Weymouth and westerly including Wellesley. Population of whole district computed at Post Office according to 1915 census as approximately, 1,400,000 and of these subdistricts in Boston as follows: Allston, 14,931; Back Bay, 29,892; Essex Street, 21,186; Grove Hall, 29,028; Hanover Street, 32,097; Jamaica Plain, 31,092; Mattapan, 8,351; North Postal, 44,294; Roslindale, 17,153; Roxbury Crossing, 48,363; Station A, 61,781; Upham's Corner, 46,085.

The population of Dorchester alone was equal to that of Quincy, Everett, Medford and Waltham combined. Chelsea is the most densely populated municipality in the state, viz.: 22,856 per square mile, Somerville ranking next, viz., 22,078.

There are 7 cities in the world having over 2,000,000 population, 9 more having over 1,000,000 and 11 others having more than Boston, the latter ranking twenty-eighth in the world.

STATE ELECTION IN BOSTON, 1918.

On November 5, registered voters, 111,164 or 1,287 less than in 1917; actual voters (i. e., names checked), 76,559, or 68.9 per cent of those registered. Coolidge elected governor by 17,035 plurality in state (i. e., 73,444 less than McCall's plurality in 1917) to serve one year. Walsh (Dem.) elected United States Senator by a vote of 207,478, against 188,287 for Weeks (Rep.) and 21,985 for Lawson (Ind.) Senator Walsh is the first Democrat in two thirds of a century to represent Massachusetts in the United States Senate. State senators elected—6 Democrats and 4 Republicans; representatives, 33 Democrats and 17 Republicans.

TAX RATE OF BOSTON, 1918.

Total rate per $1,000 was $21.20 ($3.50 more than in 1917), or $16.85 for city purposes (i. e., $3.34 more than in 1917), $2.99 for state (i. e., same as in 1917), and $1.36 for county (i. e., 16 cents more than in 1917). Of the city rate, $4.48 was for schools, i. e., 84 cents more than in 1910 and $1.52 more than in 1905. Of the 38 cities in Massachusetts, 26 had a higher rate than Boston's, notwithstanding the unprecedented increase in the latter. The highest rate was $26.80 (i. e., Revere's); the lowest, $16 (i. e., Peabody's). Only 7 of the 38 cities had a tax rate as low as $20 or under. Tax rate in New York (Manhattan), $23.60; New York (Brooklyn), $24; St. Louis, $23.50 (on 70 per cent of value) equivalent of $16.45 on 100 per cent assessment; Cleveland, $15.50; Buffalo, $24.70; Baltimore, $20.10; Detroit, $13.80; New Orleans, $22; Newark, $27.

POPULATION OF BOSTON, 1910 AND BEFORE.

By United States Census of 1910, 670,585; by districts, Boston proper, 193,274, or 28.82 per cent of city's total; Roxbury, 117,727, or 17.56 per cent; Dorchester, 115,780, or 17.27 per cent; South Boston, 71,703, or 10.69 per cent; East Boston, 55,085, or 8.21 per cent; West Roxbury, 45,594, or 6.80 per cent; Charlestown, 41,444, or 6.18 per cent; Brighton, 26,575, or 3.96 per cent; islands, 3,403, or 0.51 per cent; Hyde Park, a separate town in 1910, then had 15,507. By State Census of 1905, population was 595,380; by United States Census of 1900, 560,892; by State Census of 1895, 496,920; by United States Census of 1890, 448,477. Per cent increase in 20 years, 1895-1915, 50.01; 1890-1910, 49.53; per cent increase in 10 years, 1900-1910, 19.6. Among American cities, Boston has ranked fifth in population since 1890, New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and St. Louis being the leading four. It is now probably in fourth place again (as in 1880), the annexation of Hyde Park having brought up its total close to that of St. Louis, and Boston's rate of increase is slightly higher.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS RATIFIED IN BOSTON, 1918.

The 19 articles of amendment submitted by the State Constitutional Convention in 1918 to the voters for decision were all ratified by majorities ranging in Boston from 15,232 on the question of Compulsory Voting, to 31,442 on Regulation of Advertising in Public Places. The most important question referred to the Establishment of the Popular Initiative and Referendum, etc., the vote on which was: Yes, 40,633; No, 16,257; Blanks, 19,669. Boston's majority of 24,376 for this amendment saved it from rejection, the majority against it in state outside Boston being 15,833. Likewise, Boston's majority for Compulsory Voting overcame the adverse majority outside by 5,735 votes. The majority for Biennial Elections of State Officers was 16,731. The most notable result of this extraordinary demand upon the voters was that 40 per cent (average) of the 76,559 who cast ballots failed to express any opinion as to 18 of the 19 questions submitted. Furthermore, 59 per cent of the registered voters failed to take any action on these important matters.

BUDGET INCREASES, 1906 TO 1916.

Total maintenance appropriation for city departments, excluding school departments and city debt requirements, increased from $11,842,250 in 1906 to $13,003,426 in 1911 and to $14,848,090 in 1916, or 9.81 per cent in five-year period, and 25.28 per cent in ten-year period. Total for school departments increased from $3,744,200 in 1906 to $4,759,000 in 1911 and to $6,189,000 in 1916, or 27.1 per cent in five-year period and 65.3 per cent in ten-year period. Total for county increased from $1,317,705 in 1906 to $1,549,295 in 1911 and to $1,-864,142 in 1916, or 17.58 per cent in five-year period and 41.47 per cent in ten-year period. These figures show that school expenses increased more than two and a half times faster, and county expenses more than one and a half times faster, than all other department expenses (combined), while city debt requirements increased only about three-fourths as fast, or from $4,487,515 in 1906 to $5,314,523 in 1916.

REPORT OF TRIAL BOARD.

The following report was submitted:

To the School Committee:

At your meetings on January 18 and February 2, 1920, a number of communications were received from the Schoolhouse Custodian making charges against certain janitors, which were referred to the Trial Board for investigation and report.

The Trial Board has held six meetings in these cases which were attended by each member of the Board, by the Schoolhouse Custodian, by representatives of the Schoolhouse Commission, and the janitors concerned, with the exception of one meeting which was not attended by one of the members of the Trial Board and three meetings which were not attended by the Schoolhouse Custodian.

The following reports, findings and recommendations are now respectfully submitted by the Trial Board in the cases referred:

Patrick M. Tighe, janitor, English High School-house.

This was a case of a freezeup which occurred in one of the laboratories and a lecture room on February 1, the damage consisting of the freezing of a part of the plumbing apparatus, the falling of a ceiling or part of a ceiling, and some damage by water to the contents of a room.

It appears from the testimony submitted to the Trial Board that for a long time it has been found difficult adequately to heat the laboratory and lecture room in question, and that a recording thermometer kept in one of those rooms shows that the temperature therein is regularly much below that in other parts of the building. Repeated applications have been made to the Schoolhouse Commission to make such changes and improvements in the heating apparatus as would enable these rooms to be sufficiently heated in the same manner as other parts of the building. This was not done until after the freezeup.

It does not appear that the janitor was at all at fault.

FINDING—That this freezeup was due to defective or insufficient heating apparatus, and the janitor was not responsible therefor.

RECOMMENDATION — That the charge against the janitor be dismissed, and the matter placed on file.

George J. Thornton, janitor, Capen Schoolhouse, South Boston.

Reported because of the dismissal of classes on January 26 on account of insufficient heat.

This was a Monday morning and it appears that the janitor arrived at his building at 5 o'clock. Two out of six classes were dismissed. The damage occurred to a part of the apparatus in an exposed situation, amounted to but about $10 or $12, and, in the opinion of the representative of the Schoolhouse Commission, the janitor should not be held responsible therefor.

FINDING — That the freezeup of the return in this building was due to the exposed condition of the apparatus and not to any fault on the part of the janitor.

RECOMMENDATION — That the charge against the janitor be dismissed, and the matter placed on file.

Edward J. Harold, janitor, Hancock School-house.

Three classes in the Cushman School-house were dismissed at, or just before, 9:30 a. m. on January 30, because of low temperature in the respective rooms which these classes occupy. The testimony presented to the Trial Board with regard to the actual conditions is quite conflicting, and the Trial Board has found it difficult to come to a definite conclusion.

The readings of several thermometers were taken by the janitor and by the teacher in charge. It is asserted that the readings of these different thermometers disagreed, and also that they agreed. Even if it be admitted as true that the temperatures of these rooms by the thermometer readings were much below 60 at, or shortly before, 9 o'clock, it also appears that the temperatures were rapidly rising, and it is admitted by the teacher in charge of the building that it was quite possible that the real temperature was at or about 62 degrees before 9:30 when the classes were dismissed.

There has been no disposition evidenced on the part of the principal of the district or the teacher in charge of the school to make any charges against the janitor. They say he is faithful and intelligent, and that they have no fault to find with him.

The janitor asserts that he ascertained the actual temperature of the rooms which were dismissed at about the time the classes were filing out, and that the temperatures were about 62 degrees, and that the teacher in charge of the building admitted this was so.

Summing up, as well as it is able to do, the varying and conflicting testimony submitted to it, the apparent good service being rendered by the janitor, the unwillingness on the part of the teachers to make any complaint against him, although they think that he is overburdened and that an additional man should be available in this particular building (the Cushman School-house), the Trial Board has come to the conclusion that if the classes had not been dismissed at as early an hour as such action was taken, it would probably have been found unnecessary within a comparatively short time to suspend their session.

The Trial Board is of the opinion, however, that both the principal and the teacher in charge of the building acted in perfectly good faith in believing that the temperature in these rooms at the time of dismissal was not over 55 degrees, and in believing that the action taken was warranted.

The Trial Board has also had submitted to it and examined various records of temperatures in this building during the month of January, a month when very cold weather has uniformly prevailed, and it appears that the janitor has succeeded in keeping the building very well heated during an extremely trying month.

FINDING—That the janitor exercised due care in the operation of the heating apparatus, and should not be held responsible for the dismissal of the classes.

RECOMMENDATION — That the charges be dismissed, and the matter placed on file.

Joseph J. Sheehan, janitor, Longfellow School-house, Roslindale.

Reported because of a freezeup which occurred in that building during the Christmas recess.

It appears that the damage consisted of the freezing of the water front in a coal stove and a frozen coil, which are located on the north side of the building in a much exposed position where it is difficult to prevent damage in cold weather.

Painters were working in the building on Sunday, and the janitor remained there until 9 o'clock P. M. in order to dry out the building sufficiently to get it in suitable condition for occupancy on the following Monday, when he arrived at 4.45 o'clock A. M.

FINDING—That this was an unavoidable accident for which the janitor is in no degree at fault, a finding in which the representative of the Schoolhouse Commission concurs.

RECOMMENDATION—That no further action be taken, and that the matter be placed on file.

James E. Johnson, janitor, Louis Prang School-house, Roxbury.

Reported because of insufficient heat in the building on January 19, necessitating the dismissal of classes.

The janitor claims that he was in attendance on the preceding day—Sunday, January 18—up to 4 o'clock p. m.; arrived on Monday morning at 4 o'clock a. m., but did not succeed in getting the building adequately heated for occupancy. He claims that as the building is furnace-heated frequent difficulties are experienced in cold weather in keeping particular rooms warm, and that the heating apparatus is not adequate nor dependable; further that the draft in one of the furnaces is very poor.

FINDING—That it is difficult under certain conditions and in cold weather to heat this building properly by furnace, but the janitor has failed to keep the stack leading from the furnace clean and in good order, and that the defective draft is due partly to the pitch of the pipe and neglect on the part of the janitor; also, that there probably is difficulty in heating equally all the rooms in the building by furnace on cold days and with the wind in particular directions.

RECOMMENDATION — That the janitor be reprimanded for not giving sufficient care to keep the apparatus in good order and that he be instructed to clean the pipe leading from the furnace to the chimney more frequently.

Francis L. McDonough, janitor, Margaret Fuller School-house, Jamaica Plain.

Reported because of the dismissal of classes on account of insufficient heat on January 5.

On this day, when all classes were dismissed for the morning session, the outside temperature was five degrees below zero. The janitor claims that he had five pounds of pressure at 5:30 o'clock a. m. and seven pounds at 6 o'clock a. m. He usually arrives at the building at 6 or 6:30 o'clock a. m. He claims that the heating apparatus is not adequate in that it does not have sufficient radiation and that trouble has been experienced in heating it properly for a long time, and under a former janitor.

The Trial Board does not agree with this view, after obtaining the opinion of the heating expert of the Schoolhouse Commission on the subject, but believes rather that the trouble is probably due to the janitor failing to adjust his apparatus properly and to begin his duties at a sufficiently early hour in the morning to enable him to have the building properly heated when required for school purposes.

FINDING—That the janitor probably has not given sufficient time and attention to the discharge of his duties, and especially has not begun the operation of the heating apparatus at a sufficiently early hour on Monday mornings to insure the building being in condition for school occupancy at the appointed time, and that, considering past experience with this building, proper attention to his duties on the part of the janitor will prevent further cause for complaint.

RECOMMENDATION—That the janitor be reprimanded for giving insufficient attention to his duties, and instructed to exercise greater care in the operation of the heating apparatus in the future.

Frank W. Munroe, janitor, Nathan Hale School-house, Roxbury.

Reported for failure to heat that building, necessitating the dismissal of classes on January 26, 1920.

This was on Monday morning and six classes were dismissed. The failure to heat the building was due to the fact that one of the two boilers in the building was inoperative. This boiler was out of service on the morning in question because of needed repairs due to low water, resulting from a leaky gasket which the janitor had failed to detect. The janitor discovered the condition of the boiler on Saturday, January 24, but failed to report the damaged condition to the boiler to the Schoolhouse Commission until the following Monday, as a result of which repairs were not begun until two days later than would have been the case had the damage been reported promptly.

There are some extenuating circumstances in that some of the returns to the other boiler in the building had been in need of repairs as a result of which the leaky condition of the boiler in question failed to attract the attention of the janitor.

FINDING—That the failure to heat the building properly was due to the fault of the janitor in that he failed to notice the leaky condition of one of the boilers in his building, and after discovering that the boiler was damaged, on account of low water, delayed reporting its condition to the Schoolhouse Commission for a period of two days.

RECOMMENDATION — That the janitor be fined the sum of ten dollars ($10), to be deducted from his weekly compensation at the discretion of the Business Agent at a rate not exceeding five dollars ($5) per week.

Carl I. Priest, janitor, William Lloyd Garrison School-house, Roxbury.

Because of insufficient heat, it was found necessary to dismiss five classes for the morning session on January 19, and two classes for the morning session on January 22.

It happened that the Schoolhouse Custodian visited this building on January 19 and found that there was no pressure in the heating apparatus up to 9.30 o'clock A. M. The apparatus was in an operative condition, but the flues and fires were dirty and had not been properly cleaned. The janitor claims to have remained in the building all the previous night, found his pressure low at 3 o'clock A. M., and tried to get up additional pressure, but without success. Did not know that the flues were dirty; had been engaged the previous day in shoveling snow and had left the care of the apparatus largely to his assistant.

FINDING—That the janitor was neglectful in not seeing that the flues of his heating apparatus and his fires were kept clean and that this lack of attention was the probable cause of the difficulty.

RECOMMENDATION—That the janitor be reprimanded for failing to give adequate attention to the condition of his heating apparatus, and that he be instructed to exercise greater care in this respect hereafter.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM T. KEOUGH,
THORNTON D. APOLLONIO,
PATRICK M. CONNOLLY,
Trial Board.

INVESTIGATION OF LONG ISLAND INSTITUTIONS.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN offered an order—That the Committee on Inspection of Prisons be authorized and requested to make an investigation of the management of the institutions at Long Island, and especially in regard to conditions during the recent epidemic of influenza.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN—Mr. President, I have offered this order because of the fact that during the past month we have read of the conditions prevailing on Long Island. We all know the attempt that has been done to do away with the trustees who have governed and controlled that island for so many years, and we know the unfortunate conditions that prevail between the superintendant at the island and those trustees. It does seem, having in mind the tremendous loss of life on Long Island the last month from influenza, that something should be done to remedy the situation prevailing there. I do not know at this time who is responsible for it, but it would seem that when any community with the population of Long Island loses practically 16 to 20 per cent of its population in a week's time something is radically wrong and something should be done to remedy the situation. I offer the order not with the intention of looking for any particular person, but with the sole intention of protecting the poor unfortunates who are obliged to be there, the unfortunate sick who never can be well. It seems to me an important thing to do, and I think the City Council can well afford to give time to the unfortunates on Long Island, investigating to see if some concrete suggestions may not be made which will tend to relieve the situation. I hope the order will be referred to the Executive Committee and will be passed by the Council.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

EMPLOYEES TO BE HEARD ON BUDGET

Coun. McLAUGHLIN offered an order—That the City Clerk be directed to cause notice to be sent to the various departments to the effect that the City Council, sitting in Committee on Appropriations, is willing and desirous of hearing any employees or the representative of any class of employees who have facts to present to prove that they have been unjustly treated in the matter of salaries or wages in the present budget.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN—Mr. President, I realize perhaps as much as anybody that this is a departure from the regular course of procedure in this body. There are those who maintain that this order is not in compliance with the city charter of Boston. I am sure I don't know whether that be the fact or not, but I do know that his Honor the Mayor came before this body some few months ago and made a very stirring appeal to the entire membership of the body to go to Beacon Hill and lend their support to him towards increasing the tax limit from $9.52 to $11.52. He at that time gave as his reason for increasing the tax limit that it was for the sole purpose of giving a living wage to all city employees and to obviate the necessity of extensive dismissals from the public service. The Council did as he requested. They went to the Legislature, appeared before the Committee on Municipal Finances, and the efforts of his Honor the Mayor and the Council finally resulted in getting an additional dollar increase in the tax limitation. We now have a situation confronting us that we never had before. There is a great surplus of money in the treasury and the Mayor is expending more money than any previous mayor has ever had; and yet we find a rather demoralized situation prevailing throughout the entire city force. Everybody is now dissatisfied. The taxpayers are dissatisfied, the working people are dissatisfied; the entire city organization is becoming demoralized. We are being approached every day by hundreds of city employees who feel that they are unjustly discriminated against. I don't know whether that is so or not. I don't know whether the Mayor has shown any particular preference to certain individuals that he should not have shown. But I do know that every department contains many of such employees who are absolutely dissatisfied with the working conditions and salary conditions in their department. There must be some reason for the complaint that these men are making. When employees have been in the service of the city for years and come and appeal to us for our support along that line, asking us to assist them to get a living wage, there is certainly something that needs looking into. We had the promise of the Mayor that he would do everything in his power, if the tax limit were increased, to give these men a so-called living wage. We presumed that every employee of the city was to get an increase of some amount. Instead of that we find men who are neglected, find particular cases of men who do not seem to have obtained an increase of salary. We find whole departments deprived of an increase. We find the body of laborers in the City of Boston presented with a 50-cent increase, when everybody believed they should get a dollar or a dollar and a half more. They feel that $4 a day is not enough money for them, that even if we increased them to $5 a day, something that I know the majority of the Council would be only too pleased to do, with the approval of his Honor the Mayor, they would then have difficulty in supporting their families in these strenuous times. We find the Fire Department discontented, and men in innumerable other departments discontented. They are discontented with the action of the heads of departments in this matter. The heads of departments are appointed by his Honor the Mayor, and their actions are subject to his approval while he holds that office. I feel that it is only fair and right that these city employees who are dissatisfied should be given a chance to attend a hearing. We members of the City Council sympathize with them in the fight they are making to maintain their homes and families. It may be argued that this is a departure from the city charter which governs the body.

But I don't think the charter was ever intended to deprive men of a hearing or to prevent their cases being properly considered, after hearing whatever statements they might wish to make. I think we, as representing the citizens of Boston, members of the City Council, ought to inform city employees of whatever class, in whatever station of life, that they will have the right, the opportunity, to at least come before the Council and present the facts governing their cases. Their statements can be taken down by Mr. Harnden, our stenographer, and they can then be submitted to his Honor the Mayor, so that he will know the facts that have been presented and will have them before him. He can have the assistance of Rupert Carven, the Budget Commissioner, in going over the facts and in going over the figures, and can do his best to meet the wishes of the men, having the finances of the city also in mind. There should be a complete hearing and a thorough explanation of all the things. That is what is done by representatives of the British Exchequer of England, in connection with financial bills; it is done by the Secretary of the Treasury at Washington; it is done in the Massachusetts Legislature, when the Senate and House Ways and Means Committee brings in a budget order, being prepared to defend every single item that the committee has stood for. In the same way here, let all the facts be understood, and let the Mayor then take final action, having in mind the facts, with all the assistance that he can get from every source. We can also then go into our sessions and act with some degree of intelligence in the matter. If we cannot increase the amount, we can at least give these people who have a right to be heard a fair hearing, allowing the facts to be known and giving them an opportunity for them to be acted upon. I hope that this order will be passed.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

HOUSING FACILITIES FOR BOSTON.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN offered an order—That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consult with the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Boston Real Estate Exchange the Master Builders' Association, the Boston Central Labor Union and any other organization that he may consider advisable, and examine into the feasibility of forming a corporation of public spirited citizens who will undertake and finance the project of providing housing facilities for the great number of people in this city who are not properly provided for.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN—Last week his Honor the Mayor sent in a message in answer to an order passed here as to action he had taken on the housing situation. It was interesting for him to say and for us to read that he has no legal right to act in accordance with the order as passed by the Council. I do not know who wrote the message for him, or whether he wrote it himself, but apparently the message was written in view of the order which was passed June 23, 1919. Apropos of this matter, everybody who has read the Boston American knows the great agitation that is now going on for increase in the housing facilities throughout the Commonwealth and throughout the entire nation. It seems a rather peculiar thing that the City Council of Boston has been advocating that very selfsame thought, along the selfsame lines for over a year, and yet the Mayor of Boston says now that he has no right to call these representatives of the citizens together to talk about an expenditure of money. The order does not call for the expenditure of money. It has nothing to do with expending the city's finances. It simply says that the City Council is of the opinion that the Mayor, because of the terrible housing situation today, a situation which has existed for a year and a half or more, should call in business men, the heads of the various organizations interested in building homes for the people, present to them the situation prevailing and ask them if in their opinion it would not be advisable to form some sort of corporation of public-spirited citizens to help provide homes for the working, laboring classes of our city. He says he cannot do it, as he said on the gas situation that he did not think he had the money to do it. He cannot give the time, he cannot afford the opportunity for these men of brains to come together and devise some ways and means for providing homes; and the sorrowful part of it is that we see our people going back from the standpoint of population. Only a week ago, when the census returns came out, they showed that the City of Boston had gone back. We know the great effort that is being made from New York to let the grass grow in the streets of Boston. We know the terrible situation from a business standpoint prevailing in the city. We have a great undeveloped waterfront, and still nothing is done to encourage business here and to give people an opportunity to make a living here. We have young people who have been born in Boston, who have lived here the early part of their lives, who have married, and who leave Boston because they cannot find homes in Boston. And yet the Mayor, when confronted with this terrible situation, says that he has not got the money to meet the necessary expenditures. Mr. President, it does not require expense of any sort, and he knows that the order does not require the expenditure of money. But he refuses for some reason or other to call these leading citizens, these so-called men of power, men of great financial strength and of business capacity together, to see whether or not it would be an advisable thing to form a corporation of public-spirited citizens for the sole purpose of building and providing homes, as other cities have done throughout the state and throughout the country, to take care of the unfortunate people today who are paying extortionate increases in rent and who cannot find the proper facilities for their families at a reasonable price. It is a bad moral situation, it is a bad health situation, and his Honor the Mayor should not lend himself to it. I hope the order will pass under suspension of the rule, so that we may place before the Mayor the Council's position in the matter, as a matter in which we are deeply interested and one that is being agitated throughout the entire world.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PAY FOR CITY LABORERS, ETC.

Coun. HAGAN offered an order—That the City Council respectfully requests his Honor the Mayor to give further consideration to the request and needs of the men employed by the city as laborers, janitors and elevator men, and, if possible, grant their request for the daily wage scale of $4.50 per day, to be incorporated in the budget appropriation for the present fiscal year.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, eight members of the Council are on record, and unquestionably after a vote is taken nine will be found to be in favor of granting the men employed in the city service as laborers, janitors and elevator men, a daily wage scale of $5. In my judgment, and in the judgment of others, that is the minimum amount that should be given to properly maintain those men and their families in these days of high cost of living. Delegations representing these men in the city's service have been before the Mayor and pleaded earnestly with him, thus far without avail. The Mayor has granted a 50-cent increase in the daily wage scale, from a low level of $3.50 to what he considers to be a fair level of $4. It is an advance. The Mayor evidently is satisfied with the amount of that advance, because he considers that the percentage of advance as given to laborers in recent years has been large. And that seems so. Unfortunately, however, in computing the percentage of increase the Mayor has seen fit to go over only recent years, when increases have been granted from $2.50 to $3 and from $3 to $3.50. That is not fair or just to the men. If a long period of time were taken the percentage of increase to the laborers, say over the last fifteen years, would be found to be infinitely small in comparison with the increases that have been granted to men in the clerical and other branches of the city service. Laborers now employed by the city have evidently given up hope of being able to reach that minimum wage of $5, that goal which they have struggled for, thus far without avail, and they will be satisfied and gratified today if the Mayor will meet their request and grant them $4.50, or an extra 50 cents a day over that allowed in the present budget for the present fiscal year. These men come to the members of the City Council, knowing that we are in warm sympathy with them, and ask for our aid and co-operation in an honest endeavor to get the results which they are aiming at. It is unfortunate, Mr. President, if true, that some of the men connected with the city's service, who have seen fit to come to me individually and ask me to be helpful to them, may have thought they had reason to feel that that was prejudicing their case. It is certainly unfortunate, if true, that coming to me would prejudice their case in the minds of some few members of the body. If so, I regret it most sincerely, for I want to be helpful and do not want to be an impediment or in any way imperil or jeopardize or prejudice their case. I hope that is not true, because if it were it would be the height of pettiness and feeble-mindedness, and I cannot believe any member of this Council would be guilty of it. If I felt that there were anything in that I would be more than pleased and satisfied to have the men go to any other member of the body, my whole idea being that I would wish to have the result we all have in mind accomplished, regardless of individuals. A matter of this sort must depend on the active aid and co-operation of every member of the Council, and I have said to the men who have approached me in regard to this matter, "Do not give me credit for this; give every member of the Council all the credit, which is their due. Give the credit to the Council as a whole, not mentioning an individual's name in any way, as I know all the members desire to be helpful to the men in the service." I hope, therefore, that if there be any prejudice because of my interest in behalf of the men it will be removed and that the members of the body will see that the cause is greater than any one individual. I have no axe to grind other than to be helpful, trying to do what I can to aid the men in their honest endeavor to better their living conditions. Mr. President, the Mayor having thus far failed to rise to the emergency and to see the necessity, it rests entirely with the members of this Council to diligently and carefully inspect every item in the budget, with a view to saving every possible dollar we can gather together, getting a sufficient fund out of the budget, which would otherwise be appropriated for some other purpose, and holding that money unappropriated, then leaving it on the Mayor's desk and saying, "There is a sufficient sum of money that the City Council has saved, Mr. Mayor, and we are going to ask you to send in to us a supplementary budget increasing the wage scale of day laborers, janitors and elevator boys. It is true that after making this effort the Mayor does not have to follow our advice and does not have to adopt our suggestion. But the Mayor of Boston is human, like all of us, and when that responsibility is thrust and laid positively and directly upon his shoulders, he may then see a new light, may have a new vision that will prompt him to send out a supplementary budget as suggested. If so—and I hope and anticipate that it will be so—we will all be accomplishing a good and glorious work for men who need this additional amount for the support of themselves and their families. I will not dwell longer upon this matter, although much more could be said. I think I have expressed the thought that is uppermost in my mind. I have tried to say to members of this body that I want their active co-operation and without any question I expect to have it, because I feel satisfied that every member of this Council is just as ardent and as devoted to the men whose interests we have at heart, intends to be just as helpful as I. We are all anxious to have this end accomplished.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, it goes without saying that I favor the spirit of the order. I have in mind a similar order introduced last year, in the matter of increasing the firemen's pay in the budget. At that time the increase the Mayor recommended was $100. An order was introduced for a $200 increase. I remember that there was an amendment made to the order that, aside from the subject matter of the order then under consideration, the Council as a whole be appointed a committee to present the order to his Honor the Mayor and talk face to face with the Mayor concerning it. The result of that order and the amendment was that we had the Fire Commissioner, the Police Commissioner and his Honor the Mayor, together with the entire Council, sitting altogether with the Budget Commissioner in the Mayor's office, considering the question of giving a $200 increase to the firemen rather than $100. The result was that after that conference, where we all spoke strongly in favor of the $200 rather than the $100 increase, the Mayor finally agreed to make the increase $200. For that reason I am going to ask the gentleman opposite to accept an amendment to his order, not interfering with the phraseology at all, that a committee of the entire Council be appointed to wait upon his Honor the Mayor and urge the importance of the order upon the Mayor in person, asking him whether he will, if possible, accept it. I would move that as an amendment.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I would vote for such an order, or if the gentleman prefers to put it in the form of an amendment to the present order I have no objection. But I would prefer to see it put in the form of another order, which can be hastily written and acted upon intelligently, separate from the order in hand. I am not perhaps as enthusiastic in regard to the gentleman's suggestion as he is, owing to the fact that every possible effort up to the present time has been made with the Mayor to convince him of the justice of the men's case, and thus far without avail. But I believe if we can show to the Mayor in connection with the subject, give to him the best possible proof that money can be saved in the budget, and that the money so saved should be spent as here suggested, it may have a great deal of weight with his Honor the Mayor. It is only the same dollar spent in another and more meritorious direction, giving the laborers a wage scale that will be more nearly sufficient in amount. In other cities of the Commonwealth today they are giving the laborers more than $4 a day, so that Boston is not at all generous in her $4 remuneration. I do not believe the order is going to have any appreciable effect on the Mayor, but I am very glad to vote for it and to co-operate with him to get that result. I will be very glad to co-operate and vote with every individual member of the Council in getting the result we are aiming at. I have only one object in view, the benefit of the men, and I shall be glad to get the co-operation of my eight colleagues in that. It is simply the result that I am after. I am willing to vote for an amendment such as you suggest, Mr. Councilor, although I think it would be better for it to take the form of a new order.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I beg to apologize to the gentleman opposite, if it has appeared that I would think for one moment that I could improve on anything he might do. He has opened another thought to me again, when he says he does not believe his order will amount to anything in the matter of bringing about this increase. I perhaps feel the same way. But I feel that if my suggestion is adopted and we go to the Mayor as a committee of the whole, carrying out the intended spirit of the councilor's order, asking the Mayor if in the event of our being successful in saving an amount from the budget sufficient to give $4.50 a day to the laborers, whether he will use the amount saved for that purpose, we can then get something definite. But I would ask the gentleman opposite what would be gained by saving $150,000 or $200,000 from the budget and then not having it used for the suggested purpose, but simply going back into the Reserve Fund? If we are going to cut down appropriations for departments, necessary appropriations, on the mere possibility that we may get $4.50 for the laborers, an amount necessary to cover what would be needed for that purpose, we do not then have anything definite to act upon. I will not vote to take one nickel from a single department appropriation for any purpose, with a view to increasing the wages of the laborers and others referred to here, unless I have a guaranty from his Honor the Mayor face to face that the amount of money saved in the budget will be used for the purpose of giving better salaries and wages to employees. I do not propose to take amounts from some necessary appropriations and hand them to his Honor the Mayor, simply to be put in the Reserve Fund, so that perhaps at the end of the year he can point to an unexpended surplus with pride. Let us go about this thing in the proper way. The gentleman opposite and I seldom agree, but he knows as well as I do that no practical politician—and I am labeled by the Good Government Association of Boston—will stand up for one moment opposed to giving city employees, laborers, a wage sufficient to afford them a living. But let us go to work at it sanely. If you accept the amendment, well and good; if you want a separate order, I will give it to you. But why the duplication? If the Mayor accepts, well and good. I shall be glad to be one of nine members to wait on the Mayor and see, if we can get from the budget a sum sufficient to raise the appropriation that the gentleman opposite favors, and that we all favor, whether the Mayor will agree to use the amount so saved from the budget for that purpose. If the Mayor says "Yes," I will go as far as the gentleman opposite will in paring the budget to bring about that result. Otherwise, I will not.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, it has been my honest effort to keep out of any controversy or feeling at the present time, because I think any feeling of pettiness there may be on the part of myself or any other member of the Council had better be thrown into the discard, certainly for the time being. If anything of that sort is to be shown, it should be at some more opportune moment for it, when it will cause no confusion or injustice to any human being. The man in the city service today, working for an inadequate wage, and who is needing a legitimate increase, should not be the bone of contention between myself and any other member of this body. His cause is too great and too holy for us to stand for anything of that sort. I am speaking here and taking the position I do today for the men. The gentleman opposite has asked me to do that which I have done repeatedly, and which he could have equally as well, had he seen fit. He is asking me to do it here at this late day all over again. Other members of the Council have done so. The men themselves, delegation after delegation, have done so. It has failed to impress the Mayor. The gentleman opposite says if the Mayor will agree that if we provide the necessary sum out of the budget he will give that money to the laborers to increase their wage scale, he will then vote for the reduction in the budget. But what if the Mayor says no, he won't, which is what the Mayor will say. Then the gentleman serves notice upon us that he is not going to try to find the money, because the Mayor is going to say "No." The Mayor has said "No." His budget, as sent to us, is a most emphatic "No." But I say to you, gentlemen, when the responsibility is later placed on the Mayor's shoulders by the Council, we having saved the money by not appropriating it in the budget, the same dollar being saved for a more meritorious purpose—when that responsibility is placed on the Mayor's shoulders he is going to see a new light, a vision that he does not see now. If you go to him now he will say, "My budget appropriation, gentlemen, is before you, and goes as far as I will go." Are we, therefore, to take that stand and accept that? We don't have to do anything of the sort, Mr. President, unless we want to do so. The Finance Commission is an established body in this city. It is held in ill-repute by certain members of the Council, it is true. But, like everybody in the world, it does some good. It is not wholly bad. It is not 100 per cent wrong, it is not 100 per cent right; but there is no man who ever sat in the Council Chamber who will have the hardihood to stand on his feet and say that it is 100 per cent wrong. The Finance Commission is certainly some per cent right, and if it is some per cent right our opportunity is there. In the recommendations of the Finance Commission last year to this body they showed us plainly that we could make reductions in the budget of last year to an amount of over $800,000 without touching a salary of one city employee, without taking a dollar out of Schedule A. They recommended $800,000 in reductions. The Council did not accept these recommendations, but pursued their own wisdom in the matter. They did that which appeared to them to be just and generous, although the departments insisted that they needed every dollar last year and couldn't get along without it, and asked the Mayor for more, which he had reduced from the appropriation, yet we turned over a balance this last fiscal year. I went all through this three years ago, Mr. President, with the keenest opposition from the gentleman opposite at that particular time on that particular matter. He appeared in the City Council then, as now, insisting that money could not be saved in different departments in the budget in a sufficient sum so that we could spend a good sum on the streets of Boston, which were in a deplorable condition. The then Mayor could not see that it could be done, and he sent in an appropriation in the budget for street repairs of $100,000. The heads of departments came before the then Council. We probably had the longest sessions in consideration of the budget appropriations that this body has ever had, extending over a seven weeks' period, every afternoon and quite a few nights. It was exhaustive in its character. Every possible effort was made to intelligently and judiciously do a good job. The outcome, to make my story short, was that the City Council of that year cut from that budget $600,000, and that amount in addition to the amount which was put into the budget, was spent on the streets of Boston. And the departments went on and did their business, although they had insisted that they must have every dollar that was allowed them in the original budget. They went on and did their business, functioning better than they ever did before in any year that I have been connected with the city service, and for the first year in many, at the tail end of the fiscal year, every department of the city but one turned over an unexpended balance to the city treasury. They said that they could not get along at the beginning of the year, but they did get along and did a good job, and $600,000 was taken from the budget and put into the streets of Boston. We are doing it now for another purpose, putting it into the homes of the families for bread and butter for those dependent on these laborers, and there should be no criticism, no argument, no hurrah raised, but should be a unanimous desire and effort on our part to do everything we can to see that the thing goes through and goes through clean, in order to get this result which we all desire to obtain.

Coun. WATSON—Mr. President, I just want to suggest to the gentleman opposite, when he intimates in his remarks that I have been derelict in my duty in attempting to get salaries increased for the laborers, that that statement of his is like a great many other statements he makes, contrary to the facts.

Coun. HAGAN—Mr. President, I withdraw the statement. I did not know the gentleman had done anything, but I will take his word for it absolutely.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

DEAR SIR,—Attached please find list of bids on dry goods to be delivered to the Boston City Hospital, opened at this office under date of February 20, 1920. The bids of the Lewis Manufacturing Company and Blodgett, Ordway & Webber are irregular, as indicated on the attached list of bids, both these companies neglecting to enclose certified check and also depositing both bids at the Supply Department instead of submitting duplicate bid to the Auditor.

I also respectfully recommend that the contract for supplying shroud cotton, twilled cotton, pequot sheeting, eagle corded spreads, glass towel-ling, private patients' towels, and turkish towels, amounting to approximately $1,900, be awarded to the D. F. Holland Linen Company, the lowest bidder for these items.

Regarding the other items not placed, I would respectfully ask permission to buy these in the open market, owing to the irregularity in connection with the bids deposited by the Lewis Manufacturing Company and Blodgett, Ordway & Webber, as outlined above.

DEAR SIR,—Your permission is requested to approve of the sale of 250 bags at $4.35 of potatoes from Messrs. Lowell Brothers & Bailey.

As more particularly set forth in attached letter of Commissioner Thomas C. This additional 50 bags brings the total cost above $1,000, but the Commissioner, in view of the present market price, desires to keep the potatoes, provided your Honor will approve of this department, waiving the advertising requirements.

In connection with price, would state that the Power Equipment Company, who made the pumps upon which these impellers are used, quoted this office a price of eight hundred seventy-five dollars ($875) each.

I am attaching a copy of letter from the Commissioner of Public Works, setting forth the reason for this request.

Respectfully yours,
FRANK S. DELAND,
Acting Superintendent of Supplies.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS.

STATEMENT BY MAYOR PETERS.

BEFORE THE COMMITTEE ON MUNICIPAL FINANCE OF THE LEGISLATURE, MARCH 15, 1920, RELATIVE TO AN INCREASE IN THE TAX LIMIT OF BOSTON.

The financial situation of the city has required legislation on the tax limit for the last three years, and as this situation shows no change it will be necessary to have the tax limit raised for next year in order that the city may perform its functions.

The functions of the city are delegated by the Legislature and settled by custom. It would be impossible now to curtail these civic activities without seriously disarranging the whole life of the people of the city. The entire tendency is for the city to develop and improve the service which is given to the public rather than to curtail it.

The financial year of the city commences on February 1. Before that time the estimates have to be put in by the departments and within twenty-eight days from that time the statute absolutely requires the Mayor to file his budget for the year. It is impossible to prepare the budget without knowing what the tax limit is. The tax limit itself is not a hard and fast limit; it is only the point beyond which the Mayor and Council are not allowed to go. There are no indications of a change in the financial situation and it is respectfully submitted that the tax limit for this year should be an amount which would be sufficient to raise the amount provided for in this year's budget. This amount should be $11.52.

For a great many years the statutory tax limit of the City of Boston, which can be changed only by the Legislature, has been $5.52 on every $1,000 valuation. In 1918-19 the Mayor secured an additional $3 on every $1,000 on the tax limit from the Legislature. This year, because of greatly increased costs and the necessity of making some increases in salaries, I asked the Legislature for a tax limit of $11.52 or an additional $5 on the thousand over the customary limit.

I made the statement at the time that without the $11.52 it would be impossible for me to grant any material increase in salaries to deserving employees. The statement was made by some of the other side that $10.52 was ample, and by others that $9.52 was sufficient. At this point it is pertinent to note that every dollar allowed in the tax limit in excess of $9.52 would produce approximately $1,486,000.

I estimated that there would be a surplus of approximately $500,000. The basis of this estimate was the average experience of the last ten years, a perfectly fair basis upon which to proceed, the average surplus of the last ten years being $500,000. There was, therefore, no good basis for the assumption that such a large surplus as remained at the end of the fiscal year would result. The opponents of the measure further contended that, assuming that I had a $500,000 surplus at my command at the beginning of the fiscal year, I could keep the budget down within the sum which would be made available on the basis of the $9.52 tax limit, together with surplus and other estimated income. I contend that this was not humanly possible. It turned out that my contention was correct. Let us see what happened.

The budget estimate as submitted by department heads amounted to $23,631,426.75. As I finally approved the budget it amounted to $22,603,358.41. In other words, I found it necessary to cut from the budget the sum of $1,928,068.34.

The amount allowed by the Legislature, that is, the tax limit of $10.52, this year produced $15,678,409.86. Other estimated income amounted to $5,225,000. Add to this the estimated surplus of $500,000, and we have a total of $21,403,409.86, or a sum of $1,199,948.55 less than all the income of the city upon which I figured when I came to the Legislature for the increase in the tax limit.

The salary increases to employees this year approximated $1,500,000. In other words, if there had been no huge surplus as finally piled up, and if the surplus had been an average surplus as I had every reason to believe it would be, it would have been possible to give employees only one-fifth of the salary increases which I finally granted. For to recapitulate, there were granted increases of a million and a half, but it would have been necessary to have cut $1,195,000 from this sum to make the budget estimate coincide with all income on the basis of a $500,000 surplus.

As it is, strong protests are coming from groups of city employees at the smallness of the increases granted to them. Judging from the protests received at my office, by department heads and by members of the City Council, no one seems to be satisfied, so that one can imagine what would have happened had the employees been given only one-fifth of what has already been granted to them.

It is to be borne in mind that the salaries which I have granted will continue without reduction next year and thereafter, or at least it is reasonable to assume that this is the case. There is no reason to believe that it will be possible to reduce other city expenses. Therefore, it is also reasonable to assume on the basis of the average surplus of $500,000 that next year with a tax limit of $10.52 the city will still be $1,200,000 short; this being the sum which it would have been short this year had it not been possible to make up this deficit from the unusually large surplus created by the City Collector. There will be an additional shortage of $525,000, of which $150,000 will flow from the operation of the sliding scale in the Police and Fire Departments and the remaining $375,000 will be necessary by reason of the fact that the new salary and wage schedule will have to be in effect for a full year, whereas this year it is operative for only ten months. Thus instead of a shortage of $1,200,000 we have one of $1,725,000.

At this point it is interesting to note that since 1900 the average surplus has not been $500,000, but slightly in excess of $250,000; this over a period of twenty years. It is, therefore, distinctly unfair to assume that it will be possible to repeat the performance of the City Collector this year in piling up a surplus in excess of $3,000,000.

In my argument before the Legislature, I brought out that the tax limit did not necessarily set the amount which the city would spend, but rather that it was simply a limit beyond which the city could not go. This contention is borne out most forcibly by the fact that this year I am setting aside from the surplus the sum of $500,000 to be used in the reduction of the tax rate. The remainder of the surplus will have to be used approximately in the following manner: $400,000 has been appropriated for a new ferryboat and approaches; $45,000 has been appropriated for absolutely necessary bridge repairs. There are many permanent improvements, such as the construction of police stations, a municipal building in Hyde Park, and similar projects which have been delayed for some time.

A few of these must be undertaken this year and as the borrowing power of the city is this year only $2,100,000, or $1,800,000 less than it was last year, it is necessary to supplement this borrowing power with cash from surplus. Of the $2,100,000 debt incurring power, it is necessary to immediately appropriate $800,000 for the Sewer Loan and $400,000 for the making of highways, leaving only $900,000 available for many other improvements. It is, therefore, obvious that the remainder of the surplus can readily and most effectively be used on a few of the more important public improvements for which the people are clamoring and which have been delayed for some time, or because of the war. It should also be borne in mind that the major portion of the expense of $610,000 for snow removal must be met from this year's surplus.

As has been pointed out, the city expenses cannot decrease next year, and figuring on the most conservative basis, in order for the city to break even next year, it will be necessary for a surplus of almost $2,500,000 to be piled up by the City Collector on the basis of a tax limit of $10.52. It should also be borne in mind that next year the debt incurring power will be no greater than it is this year, so that if the city must use all of its surplus to make up the needs of the budget it will be greatly cramped in its permanent improvements on the basis of a $10.52 tax limit.

STATEMENT OF THE FINANCE COMMISSION ON SENATE BILL NO. 268 TO IMPROVE CONDI- TIONS IN NORTH END.

BOSTON, March 16, 1920.

To the Honorable the Senate:

GENTLEMEN,—The Finance Commission calls your attention to the need of rejecting Senate Bill No. 268, which provides for the borrowing of $5,000,000 outside the debt limit by the City of Boston for the purpose of improving conditions in the North End of the city. The bill has been reported upon the petition of two members of the Planning Board of Boston and contemplates the taking of thirty-two parcels of realty under the Excess Condemnation Act, for the purpose of building a new highway from the North Station to Atlantic avenue, and for the taking of an indefinite number of parcels of real estate for parks, open areas and playgrounds. One of the main objects of the bill is to improve the housing conditions in this section of the city. The act is to take effect when accepted by the city government of Boston and the improvements may be made in sections or as a whole as the city officials deem expedient.

The bill is objectionable for the following reasons:

It violates the sound and well-established principle that the City of Boston should not borrow money outside the debt limit except for rapid transit purposes and for such street improvements as are conclusively shown to be imperative and impossible to accomplish by loans issued within the debt limit. This principle was adopted by the Legislature of 1909 which, by chapter 315 of the acts of that year, rescinded all authority theretofore granted to issue loans outside the debt limit except for rapid transit purposes, because the privilege had been invoked so frequently that the credit of the city was becoming imperiled.

The Legislature has on only three occasions since the passage of the 1909 act authorized the city to borrow outside the debt limit. In 1911 it authorized a loan of $900,000 for the widening of Pleasant street, and in 1913 it authorized a loan of $1,500,000 for widening Avery, Mason and Washington streets.

The third instance was in 1917 when the Stuart Street Act (Special Acts 1917, chapter 329) authorizing excess takings if the city was guaranteed reimbursement for all expenditures over $250,000 was passed. This act has not been accepted by the City Council and the guaranty required by the act has been withdrawn by those who offered it. The Stuart Street Act is the only instance of granting authority by the Legislature to the City of Boston to make excess takings for highway improvements.

The acts authorizing these loans were the result of several years' agitation on the part of business interests of the city and were passed only after definite and specific plans had been presented to the Legislature.

The traffic highway proposed by this legislation, which was estimated last year by the proponents of the bill to cost $3,631,590, was not advocated or requested at the hearing before the committee by any real estate, business or teaming interests.

The petitioners have not even submitted their plan to the Board of Street Commissioners or to the Board of Park and Recreation Commissioners for their consideration.

The Board of Street Commissioners of the City of Boston is of the opinion that the proposed highway will not solve the traffic difficulties in the North End and market district and does not approve the construction of the highway as proposed.

In addition the Board of Street Commissioners, whose function it is to award damages for street and park takings and to assess betterments for street takings, has not estimated the probable cost of this improvement so that there is no official assurance that the project can be completed within the amount of the loan authorized by this bill.

The present act does not call for one improvement, but for many improvements. It provides, according to the statements made by its proponents before the Committee on Municipal Finance, for the elimination of congested areas in the North End, the lay-out and construction of a traffic highway, the establishment of many open areas to provide light and air to surrounding properties, and the establishment of several playgrounds and some small parks. It authorizes the city to acquire more land than is necessary to accomplish the desired purpose and to sell what is not needed with or without suitable restrictions.

This is an extreme power which the Legislature should not grant to any municipality unless it is positive that such authority is necessary to accomplish the desired object and that it will result beneficially to the inhabitants of the city.

Such a grant of power is particularly unwise in this case because the authorities under whose jurisdiction the improvement would be made have not expressed an opinion as to the wisdom of the improvement or its cost.

The act also provides that it may be accepted as a whole or in part from time to time.

The commission submits that no legislation should be passed for so composite a purpose. There is no need of appealing to the Legislature for authority to borrow money outside the debt limit for new playgrounds and parks. The city now has an extensive system of playgrounds, located in different sections of the city, constructed out of the proceeds of loans issued within the debt limit, of which the Morton Street Playground in the heart of the North End district is an example.

The city has also laid out and constructed several important highways from the proceeds of loans issued within the debt limit.

The commission submits that it is not sound municipal finance for the Legislature even to authorize the expenditure of money outside the debt limit for the purpose of improving housing conditions in the North End under the guise of making highway improvements and creating parks and playgrounds.

The commission believes that borrowing outside the debt limit is a discredited policy which should not be revived and that it should be authorized only for specific and definite improvements that are affirmatively proved to be immediately essential and impossible of accomplishment within the debt limit.

The purpose for which this authority is requested does not meet these requirements and should not receive the legislative sanction which the enactment of this measure will necessarily imply.

The Finance Commission therefore respectfully requests your honorable body to reject this measure.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
by GEORGE A. FLYNN,
Chairman.

INFLUENZA AT LONG ISLAND.

Boston, March 2, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

SIR,—In view of the recent newspaper articles with respect to the influenza epidemic at Long Island, I feel that your Honor should have first-hand information as to conditions at that institution.

On February 15 a number of the female inmates of the almshouse became sick with what first appeared to be heavy colds, but was shortly diagnosed as influenza. On the 16th I was notified that it was apparent that the disease had become epidemic, and I was requested by Doctor Donlon to furnish additional nurses. I immediately communicated with Doctor Woodward, Health Commissioner, and on the 17th, five of his nurses were dispatched to the Island. Within a few days, conditions in Boston having become easier, additional nurses, as soon as relieved, were sent to Long Island until the total number of extra nurses furnished was sixteen.

Our nursing force on the Island consisted of twelve head nurses, two supervisors and the superintendent of nurses, supplemented by thirteen pupil nurses; our total nursing force during the epidemic numbering forty-four.

Four doctors were in constant attendance and Doctor Walsh, chief visiting medical man, has been most faithful in his visits to the Island.

I feel that everything was done for the influenza patients that could possibly be done. The doctors informed me that the reason for the apparent high death rate is that the average age of those who have died is about seventy, and a large majority of those were suffering from chronic ailments.

The difficulty which the officials are experiencing in the burial of the dead can scarcely be appreciated. There have been thirty-eight deaths during the period from February 15 to March 1 from influenza, and six from other causes. Of these but nineteen bodies have been claimed by relatives. It has always been customary not to inter bodies until ten days after death, so that relatives, if they desire, may secure the bodies. The receiving tomb or morgue was capable of accommodating but twelve bodies, and at one time it was necessary to place bodies outside the morgue. They were in sealed coffins, and carefully covered with canvas. At no time did the number outside the morgue exceed six.

Prisoners were sent by me from Deer Island, and it required three days' labor on the part of ten prisoners to dig a path to the cemetery, which is about a mile from the main building.

I feel that, on the whole, the situation was well handled, and doctors, nurses and employees at the institution are worthy of commendation. I am assured by the doctor that the influenza epidemic will have cleared up within the next few days.

Apart from the influenza epidemic, I have information from several sources as to conditions generally at the almshouse, which should be investigated, and which I hesitate to go into until conditions have again become normal. My informants state that many of the old persons, particularly the bedridden, are neglected; that they are not bathed regularly; that they frequently are afflicted with bed sores, which are not attended to, and that the mattresses upon which they are obliged to sleep are nothing more than pads. They further state that there is more or less vermin.

A further complaint is the faulty medical attention which they receive, both while in the almshouse and in the hospital; that not infrequently two or three days elapse without their being seen by the resident physicians.

Of course, these statements have not been verified, but I feel that you should have them in your possession. The conditions above referred to may be due in part to the shortage of ward maids, which your Honor has allowed the Board of Trustees to increase from five to ten in number, and from the lack of pupil nurses, who, when the training school had more pupils, did a great deal of the so-called drudgery work about the wards.

I do not feel that anything would be gained at this time in giving publicity to these facts, and have requested my informants not to discuss the institution until the Board has had an opportunity to investigate and right whatever wrongs may be found existing.

Yours very truly,

THOMAS C. O'BRIEN,
Commissioner of Penal Institutions.

HALF-HOLIDAY, EVACUATION DAY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 10, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I have received the order passed by the City Council, that the heads of departments be authorized to allow all city employees who actually participate in the Evacuation Day celebration a half-holiday without loss of pay as part compensation for their services.

I am herewith returning this order without my signature, as I believe that the granting of such half-holiday would not only be exceedingly hard to limit to the cases of those who actually participate in the celebration, but also, because it is against the best interests of the city's business to increase the already large number of holidays enjoyed by city employees.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

FREE UNIFORMS FOR FIREMEN.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 11, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of your order of March 8, requesting me to authorize the Fire Commissioner to put the members of the Fire Department on the same basis, so far as free uniforms are concerned, with the members of the Police Department.

Inquiry either at this office or of the Fire Commissioner would have disclosed the fact that this had already been done in the new budget.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

PAYMENT OF CITY LABORERS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, March 11, 1920.

To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I have received the order passed by you on March 8, 1920, requesting that I give further consideration to the request and needs of the men employed by the city as laborers, janitors and elevator men, and, if possible, to grant their request for the daily wage scale of $4.50 per day in the budget appropriation for the current fiscal year.

I beg to point out that I have given every consideration to this matter and I have made my decision. In consideration of the function of the City Council with relation to the budget, I cannot regard its action in the passage of this order as anything but interference. Such an order can accomplish nothing and is bound to create a spirit of restlessness and unjustifiable dissatisfaction with the largest salary increases ever given to employees of the City of Boston.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

VETO—REINSTATEMENT OF JOSEPH M. MAY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 13, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I have received the resolution passed on March 8 by the City Council favoring the enactment of legislation to provide for the reinstatement of Joseph M. May in the Fire Department of the City of Boston. I am herewith returning this resolution without my signature.

Joseph M. May was appointed to the Fire Department January 1, 1912, at the age of twenty-six years. He resigned June 23, 1913, to enter the Police Department, leaving the Fire Department to better his condition. You will see from the dates that he has now been out of the department for approximately seven years.

Since the close of the war it has been the policy of the Fire Department to give preference in appointments to veterans of the war. Such a policy I believe meets with the general approval of everyone and I personally feel that it should be consistently followed, for veterans are entitled to this just preference.

The enactment of legislation to provide for the reinstatement of Joseph M. May would automatically give to a man who selfishly left the Fire Department to better his own condition preference over the man who without regard to his own future entered the service of his country. To permit such a thing is unthinkable.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

PUBLIC HEARING ON FERRIES.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 11, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I have received your order of March 1 requesting that I grant a public hearing on the subject-matter of the East Boston ferries-boats and docks. As I gave a hearing on the subject of the East Boston ferries on November 18, I believe it is unnecessary to hold another hearing, particularly as the Commissioner of Public Works has the whole subject under consideration and is planning to do everything possible to improve the service.

Respectfully,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

CONFERENCE WITH MAYOR.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 13, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am keeping open next Tuesday afternoon, March 16, for the purpose of a conference between a committee from the City Council and myself in case there is anything which the City Council desires to discuss with me at that time.

You will recall that a short time ago we arranged to hold such conferences from time to time in the thought that the exchange of ideas at such a meeting would be beneficial in the transaction of the city's business. Feeling that at this time there may be matters of mutual interest which might be discussed, I have arranged to meet a committee from the City Council next Tuesday. It is impossible to hold the meeting on Wednesday, the day originally set, as this coming Wednesday my entire afternoon will be taken up with the observances in South Boston.

I shall appreciate your letting me know at your early convenience whether such a committee desires to call upon me next Tuesday.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

TRANSFER OF PARK APPROPRIATION BALANCE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 13, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am transmitting herewith a communication from the chairman of the Board of Park and Recreation Commissioners relative to a transfer of the balance of the special appropriation, Park Roadway Improvements, to the special appropriation, Fens, Improvements, and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park and Recreation Department,
January 21, 1920.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—By vote of this Board you are respectfully asked to make a request upon the City Council to transfer the balance of the special appropriation for Park Roadway Improvements, amounting to $9,231.06, to the appropriation for Fens, Improvements.

This request is made in order to relocate the park drives at the Westland avenue entrance to the Fens, on account of the grave danger to automobile traffic at that point. The appropriation for Park Roadway Improvements cannot be used at this point in the Fens, as the location specified in the original order was in the Fens, between Boylston street and Commonwealth avenue. This work has been completed. Both of these appropriations were voted from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund.

If the above transfer meets with your approval the amount available will be as follows:

Balance of appropriations:
Fens, Improvements.....	$2,065 14
Park Roadway Improvements.....	9,231 06
Total.....	$11,296 20

Very respectfully yours,
JAMES B. SHEA, Chairman.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer the sum of $9,231.06 from the appropriation for Park Roadway Improvements to the appropriation for Fens, Improvements. Referred to the Executive Committee.

LIST OF VETERANS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 11, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I have received your order of March 8, to the effect that the department heads be requested to furnish the City Council with a list of all employees in their several departments who are veterans of any war in which the United States was engaged.

As far as I can determine there is no official record of this kind.

Respectfully,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

TRANSFER OF FIRE DEPARTMENT APPROPRIATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 13, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am transmitting herewith a communication from the Fire Commissioner relative to a transfer from the special appropriation Fire House, Winthrop Street, Charlestown, to the special appropriation Fire Quarters, Readville, and respectfully recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Headquarters Fire Department,
February 27, 1920.

Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—There is due the estate of Joseph McGinnis, who was architect of the new fire station at Readville, $24, and $490 is due the W. A. Snow Iron Works for an iron fence built in connection with the same station.

The balance of the special appropriation Fire Quarters, Readville, against which these two bills can be charged, is $399.42, making it necessary in order to pay the bills to transfer $114.58 from some other account.

I would recommend that $114.58 be transferred from the unexpended balance of the appropriation Fire House, Winthrop Square, Charlestown, to the special appropriation Fire Quarters, Readville.

Very truly yours,
JOHN R. MURPHY,
Fire Commissioner.

Ordered, That under authority of chapter 261 of the Acts of 1893 the City Auditor be and hereby is authorized to transfer from the appropriation for Fire House, Winthrop Street, Charlestown, to the appropriation for Fire Quarters, Readville, the sum of $114.58.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

CONSTRUCTION OF HYDE PARK AVENUE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 12, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting for your information a report just made by the Commissioner of Public Works in connection with your order of March 1 requesting that the City Council be informed as to what progress has been made in the matter of the construction of Hyde Park avenue, from Clarendon Hills to Cleary square.

Respectfully,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
March 11, 1920.

To the Honorable the Mayor:

I return herewith order of the City Council dated March 1, "That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council what progress has been made in the matter of the construction of Hyde Park avenue, from Clarendon Hills to Cleary square," and beg to advise that this department let a contract last fall for the construction of this street, and work was in progress when the ground became frozen.

I have just learned from the Corporation Counsel, however, that the relocation of the tracks on Hyde Park avenue is now involved in the entire Hyde Park street railway situation, and we are unable to state definitely whether or not the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company will live up to its agreement to carry this work through to completion.

Yours respectfully,
T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SALARY INCREASE FOR VETERANS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 10, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am in receipt of your order passed on March 1 requesting that I take such action as may be necessary to arrange that all employees of the city who are veterans of the Civil, Spanish and World Wars be granted an increase of salary of $300 for the present financial year.

I spent much time in going over the budgets of all departments and the case of every employee was reviewed most carefully. As far as it was humanly possible to do so every employee was treated in accordance with the merits of his case. Where increases were deserved they were given. I do not believe that any right-minded man would suggest that an increase be given in an undeserving case, and this was not done.

The salary of every city employee should be adjusted in accordance with the services he renders to the city, and as I have previously pointed out this has been done. I cannot see the justice of requesting that other facts be taken into consideration in fixing a man's salary and I believe that the great majority of citizens feel the same.

I should also point out that I have asked the Corporation Counsel for a ruling as to whether or not the granting of a flat increase to a certain group of employees would constitute a bonus. His reply is as follows:

"In my judgment this order is beyond the powers of the City Council and without legal effect since it amounts in substance to a request that you should pay a bonus to the class of veterans to which it refers. This is outside of the power of the city to do without legislative authority."

Respectfully,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

POWER OF COUNCIL ON BUDGET ITEMS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Law Department, March 13, 1920
John E. Baldwin, Esq.,

Clerk of Committees, City Hall, Boston:
Dear Sir,—On behalf of the Committee on Appropriations of the City Council you have asked my opinion whether section 3 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1903, relating to the annual budget, which provides that "the city council may reduce or reject any item but without the approval of the mayor shall not increase any item in nor the total of a budget nor add any item thereto," requires the City Council to obtain the approval of the Mayor in advance before taking action to increase an item or to add an item to the budget.

I am of opinion that these words mean that no item in the budget may be increased by the City Council and no item may be added to the budget by the City Council unless the approval of the Mayor has been obtained in advance.

I may add that this opinion is in line with opinions given by former Corporation Counsel John A. Sullivan, dated June 2, 1915, and of former Corporation Counsel Thomas M. Babson, dated April 13, 1911, and with the practice which has prevailed since these opinions were given.

Very truly yours,

ARTHUR D. HILL,
Corporation Counsel.

TRANSFER OF INFIRMARY DEPARTMENT TO CITY HOSPITAL.

City of Boston.

In the year Nineteen Hundred and Twenty.
An Ordinance to Abolish the Boston Infirmary Department.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

Section 1. All the powers and duties conferred by statute or ordinance on the trustees of the Boston infirmary department are hereby transferred to the trustees of the Boston City Hospital, who shall hereafter have the charge and control of Long Island and of the almshouse and hospital thereon.

Sec. 2. Chapter seven of the Ordinances of 1914 is hereby repealed.

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

RECOMMENDATIONS CONCERNING LONG ISLAND.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN offered an order—That the Committee on Inspection of Prisons be requested to consider the advisability of making the following recommendations relative to the institutions at Long Island:

1. The immediate dismissal of all the administrative officers and the visiting staff.
2. That the care and management of the Boston Infirmary Department be transferred to the trustees of the Boston City Hospital.

3. That the Mayor be requested to appoint a committee to report within three months as to the advisability and expense of locating the institution on the mainland.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN—Mr. President, I will try to be as brief as possible on this important matter. I have no desire to become greatly worked up over the situation, because I am very mindful of the fact, sir, that it is worthy of our most serious and careful attention and consideration. I do not want any action of mine here today to be construed as hasty; nor do I want any of my remarks to be construed as coming from one who lost control of himself on the floor of this body. Before saying anything relative to the matter in hand I would like to make a few statements as a sort of preamble to my general discussion. Last Saturday I saw fit, as a City Councilor and as a County Commissioner, in company with two other fellow members, to pay a visit to Long Island and to see for myself conditions as they exist there. For that, Mr. President, we have received criticism in some quarters. I want to say that our only purpose in going down there unannounced was that we might find at first hand the information we so much desired. While it is true that we might have hired a band and walked through Atlantic avenue triumphantly waving flags, and while we might have made a great hurrah over the thing for our own particular glorification as public servants, that, sir, was not our intention. We were interested primarily and fundamentally in the welfare, health and happiness of the unfortunate people of Long Island. We did not intend to offend anybody; we certainly did not intend to offend the members of our Prisons Committee. Those who know us know that we are not of that type of men, and I am sure that our fellow members realize that our motive, and our only motive, was a helpful one to those in whom we were interested. But we do have certain rights, and we are not offering an apology to anyone or to any particular class or group of people. We are County Commissioners of Suffolk County. I believe we have the right to board any boat that the City of Boston supports or maintains. I claim that we have the right, sir, to visit and investigate at any time we see fit any institution supported by the money of the taxpayers of the City of Boston. While I have that right, Mr. President, I will exercise it at my own discretion. Another word, Mr. President. I filed an order to investigate Long Island conditions, and I want to make it clear that I am not carrying the banner for any particular group of people, that I am not interested in the slightest degree in any controversy that has existed in days gone by between superintendents, trustees or other administrative officers. That has nothing to do with the present situation; it has nothing to do with the order that I filed. I will begin my study of Long Island conditions with the beginning of the epidemic of influenza that so seriously endangered the lives of 700 unfortunate inmates and cost the lives of forty of those inmates. Mr. President, let me again point out the motives and the reasons for my filing the order. It was, first, Mr. President, to find the cause of the epidemic; second, to place the responsibility for that epidemic; third, to investigate conditions on the island in general; fourth, to protect at all costs the weak, the sick and the dying on that island; fifth, to recommend such action as we believed would correct the evils existing there. Surely that was a humane order, and surely I did not offer it to please anybody or to offend anybody, but solely to defend the inmates on that island. Long Island, if I may have the pleasure of pointing out something that I know you all know, is governed by a board of trustees. They are appointed by the Mayor of Boston. It also has a visiting staff, of which Doctor Minot is chairman. They have power in the running of Long Island. Again, it has a superintendent and administrative officers charged with the direct administration of affairs on the island. But above all these trustees, above all these commissioners, above all these administrative officers, one man reigns supreme, one man is responsible for their being, and that man is the Mayor of Boston. So, Mr. Chairman, we made our trip to Long Island. I had information pertaining to Long Island before I landed on the island. I am free to say that. I had offered here and there had been passed an order to investigate the island. I know something about institutions. I have had some experience in matters of this kind, and I know how responsive, sir, men who are at fault for matters that are not up to standard in our institutions are. I know how quickly they try to rectify matters when an order is passed or when they hear that an order is going to pass pertaining to the correction of conditions in an institution with the care of which they are directly charged. Knowing that, I thought I would go down there without the trumpets blaring, because I was not and am not now looking for advertising. At the behest of the flesh and blood of unfortunate people I went down to verify the truth of the things that I had reason to believe existed, and I came back, sir, with the truth, and an honest man fears not the truth. We found, Mr. President, that the cause of the epidemic was this, that on the Sunday before this outbreak, which I believe was on February 18, the chief engineer at Long Island, I believe on Sunday, February 15, shut off the heat. It was one of those terribly cold days last February. He shut off the heat, and the old, aged and weak people caught cold. Influenza developed, pneumonia developed, and death followed. The chief engineer claims that he received the order to shut down the heat for these buildings from the superintendent in charge for the purpose of saving coal, and he saved coal for the City of Boston, this great, rich and proud city, but he saved it at the cost of forty lives of people whose well-being and safety were intrusted to the care of the people of this city. He saved the coal at the cost of the lives of those defenceless people. Again, Mr. President, we found that if the responsibility was to be placed it would have to fall upon the administrative officers. We found that the unfortunate people did not have proper protection. First, we found that they were not properly treated. Again, we found that the staff doctors prescribed the same treatment for each and every case, whether it was a cold, influenza or pneumonia. No matter what the progress of the disease was, they all got the same dose of medicine from the same bottle. We also found that no attempt was made to mark the progress of the disease, that no one visited them. We found that they took no care at all of these people to protect them from the terrible ravages of influenza, from which we here in Boston, with every facility afforded for our protection, suffered such serious effects. We found, also, Mr. President, that the linen on the beds was unclean. We found that they lacked the proper utensils to eat their food with. We found unfortunate women without a spoon. We know that in some instances they ate their food with their hands, and some of those sick and dying women have been known to take the combs from their hair, that they might eat or partake of the food offered to them by these heartless people. We know, too, Mr. President, that their bodily care was not provided for. We know that vermin existed, the vilest sort of vermin, and we know that when these unfortunate people died their bodies were not fit to be viewed. All those things we know are true, sir. We know that the padding on the beds was insufficient; we know that no mattresses were provided for these unfortunate people, that numbers of them got bed sores from being confined in the hospital, and that no one interested themselves in these matters. We know, Mr. President, that the superintendent of that institution, Doctor Donlan, never once during the entire progress of the influenza epidemic—never once, sir—visited the sick ward of those intrusted to his care. We know that the other doctors and house physicians never examined the progress of the disease. We know that they only came to those influenza wards when they were notified by the matron that some unfortunate person intrusted to your care and to mine was dead or they thought he was dead; that then the house physicians, so called, walked into a room where there were these women, poor, but ladies, with their hats on their heads and their hands in their pockets, absolutely cold as to the welfare, happiness and protection of these unfortunate people. We know, too, Mr. President, that the chairman of the consulting physicians board, or of the visiting staff, so called, Doctor Minot, has made the great number of two visits to Long Island in the past ten years. What a splendid record of public service! How thoughtful, how kind, how considerate that man must be! As to general conditions, Mr. President, we found them in terrible shape. There was absolutely no supervision. Doctor Donlan is not in the habit of going through the hospital or the almshouse. He says he is trying to establish a military system whereby the patient and the inmate will go to the headquarters office. What a splendid system for a man or a woman unable to rise from bed! We found that Doctor Minot never visits the hospital. We found the buildings there in terrible condition. There is not a building for the inmates on the island, almshouse or infirmary, that is not an absolute fire trap, and if a private corporation dared to let exist such a condition as now exists on Long Island we would have them in court to-morrow morning for defiance of statute laws put on the books to protect the lives of the people of this great city. We found the food situation absolutely nauseating. These poor women, who love their tea and their coffee, we found were refused the sugar and milk necessary to make them palatable. We found them deprived of the right to put salt and pepper on their food. We found that the food itself, sir, was not up to the standard of a pauper institution, or of what a Boston institution should be. We found the toilets absolutely in a disgraceful condition. We found bathing facilities to be almost nonexistent—two bathtubs for 150 to 200 women. We found, Mr. President, that no doctor goes to the dock to meet the unfortunates taken from the boat. We know of an instance, sir, where a man landed in a very sick condition. He was not examined for forty-eight hours after his admittance to the infirmary, and we know that that man's death soon followed. Surely, not very humane treatment. We found the beds and bedding generally unclean. We know that all these things exist. I knew it before I went to the island. I am not looking for credit from anyone in this matter. I am not trying to bring any embarrassment upon the present administration. I am only interested in the welfare and the happiness of the unfortunate poor and the unfortunate ill. They have been intrusted to your care and to mine. They have reason to believe, Mr. President, that when they step on the Long Island boat they are at least going into an institution that is a charitable one, that is a humane one, that is a kind one, the employees of which are paid from the treasury of the great masses of this city, and that those employees should treat them courteously and kindly; and we all have a right to believe that if those employees do not do so they will be dismissed, sir, forthwith. And so, Mr. President, I have come here today offering this ordinance and this order, with all due respect for and with the highest feeling of respect toward my colleagues, with the greatest admiration, sir, for the present Penal Institutions Commissioner of Boston, because I have known him for many years, and I do not lay this blame at his door. But I do say that this ordinance and this order should be sent to the committees to which they will be properly assigned by the President, the Committee on Ordinances and the Committee on Inspection of Prisons. I do not offer them as a final solution of a terribly nasty problem. I am not a doctor of all things. This may not be the panacea for the ills that now exist down there. Mr. President, but things have been neglected there for many years, and I am proud of the fact that I have made the start. I am now going to fight, Mr. President, with all the strength, with all the energy, with all the courage of the convictions that possess me today, to see if we, the City Councilors of Boston, cannot do our part in bringing a little more sunshine and a little more happiness into the hearts of those who for too many years have been forgotten by neglectful, harsh and cruel public servants. I move that these matters be sent to the committees that should properly act upon them.

The order was referred to the Committee on Inspection of Prisons.

EXTENSION OF BOSTON ELEVATED THROUGH HYDE PARK.

Coun. DONOGHUE offered an order—That the Trustees of the Boston Elevated Railway Company be requested to extend their lines to and through that part of Boston known as Hyde Park.

The question came on the passage of the order. Coun. DONOGHUE—Mr. President, in offering that order I would like to say that some time ago I offered an order asking the Boston Elevated Trustees to take some favorable action in the line of giving the people of that part of Boston known as Hyde Park proper consideration in the matter of street car service. Since that time it has come to my attention that the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway corporation has notified the people of Hyde Park and the city officials of Boston that, unless they contribute further to the Bay State Street Railway system, service on the Bay State road is to be discontinued. I think it is high time that the Boston Elevated Railway Company, which is now operated by a board of public trustees, and to which the citizens of Boston contributed last year $3,000,000, should be told that they in turn must give some consideration to the needs of the people of Boston. I feel that the residents of Hyde Park have contributed their fair share toward the support and maintenance of the Boston Elevated system, and I think that they in turn should receive the same consideration that is shown to the people of any other section. The street car service in Boston today is absolutely intolerable and abominable. I come from the South End, and ninety-nine times out of every hundred when I leave my house, which is half way between the Northampton street and Dover street elevated stations, I walk to either one of those stations before I can get an Elevated surface car. I do not think they run three cars an hour on the surface from Northampton street down through Washington street. I think the people of Boston, particularly those who live within a half-mile or mile radius of the State House, are certainly entitled, if they pay a 10-cent fare, to the same class of service that residents of Cambridge, Watertown, Belmont, the Newtons and all the outlying cities and towns are receiving.

I noticed in the paper only the other day that they are going to add ninety-three cars an hour to the present facilities at Harvard square. And for what purpose? To give additional facilities and service to the people who live in the outlying sections of metropolitan Boston. I think it is high time that the people rose in protest against the intolerable conditions prevailing on the Elevated system. Why, we are packed like a lot of dogs into Elevated trains every time we try to ride on them. Last night I had an experience in going out to Jamaica Plain. At the corner of Amory and Centre streets I had to wait fifty minutes for a car on the Elevated, going on to Jamaica Plain. I think the people of Jamaica Plain, who are supposed to have a service of one car every four or five minutes, should at least be given that service if the people in outlying sections are going to have ninety-three cars an hour added to their facilities, which I understand is to be the case from the statement of one of the officials of the Elevated system. I think it is about time that the Trustees of the Boston Elevated should show some signs of dealing with their problems in a practical manner or should resign from the jobs they are now holding down. I do not believe there is any man connected with the Boston Street Car Union, employed as a conductor or motorman, who, if he were made a member of the Board of Trustees, would not find a better way of solving the street car transportation problem than has been found up to the present time by the Board of Trustees. They do not seem to be getting anywhere, and instead of conditions getting better, in my opinion they are getting a great deal worse. I think these matters should be considered by the Boston Elevated Trustees and by the people who are in control in the City of Boston in an administrative way. I feel that the trustees have not made any effort to give to the people who live in the center of this city or in different sections I have named any kind of service. I hope they will pay some attention to this request and will see that the people of the South End, Jamaica Plain, West Roxbury and other sections shall get some kind of service.

The order was passed.

MONEY FOR APPROPRIATIONS FOR FINANCIAL YEAR.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN offered an order—That to provide temporarily money to meet the appropriations for the financial year 1920-21, the City Treasurer issue and sell, at such times and in such amounts as he may deem best, notes or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston not exceeding fourteen million dollars in the total, in anticipation of the revenue of the current municipal year; that all such notes or certificates of indebtedness be dated the day the money for the same is received, be made payable with the interest thereon within one year of their date from the revenue of the year 1920 and bear interest from their date until the same are made payable at such rate as the City Auditor, the City Treasurer and the Mayor may determine.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

On March 18 to C. Brigham Company for furnishing milk to the Infirmary Department, as per following communication and schedule of bids:

BOSTON, March 16, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—Attached please find list of bids on proposals for furnishing milk to the Infirmary Department, Long Island Hospital, which were publicly opened and read at this office under date of February 28, 1920:

I respectfully recommend that this entire contract be awarded to C. Brigham Company, the only bidder under the specification required by the Supply Department for Massachusetts Standard Grade "A" milk.

Regarding the price of medium cream, would say that H. P. Hood & Sons, the lowest bidder on this item, advised this office that they would not accept the award of this single item, and in view of this, I have included the award of the contract for the medium cream to the C. Brigham Company.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK S. DELAND,
Acting Superintendent of Supplies.

Bids on milk for the Long Island Hospital, opened February 28, 1920:

Massachusetts Standard Grade "A" Milk.—C. Brigham Company, \$1.02 per $\frac{3}{4}$ -quart can; F. Werner Company, 11 cents per quart in 40-quart jugs (not Massachusetts Standard Grade "A"); H. P. Hood & Sons, \$4.89 per 40-quart can (Hood's Grade "A"), \$4.49 per 40-quart can (Hood's).

Certified Milk.—C. Brigham Company, 19 cents per quart; F. Werner Company, 20 cents per quart; H. P. Hood & Sons, 22 cents per quart.

Medium Cream.—C. Brigham Company, 30 cents per pint; Werner Company, 42 cents per pint; H. P. Hood & Sons, 29 cents per pint.

F. Werner Company's bid irregular, as they bid on their own letter form instead of submitting bid on our proposal, and also because they did not bid on the milk specified in the proposal.

H. P. Hood & Son's bid irregular, as they failed to bid on milk specified in our proposal.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

The Mayor has approved the following contracts awarded without advertising; requests of heads of departments to do work with the department forces without advertising; additions to and deductions from contracts.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

On March 23 to Boston Buick Company as per following communication:

BOSTON, March 19, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I request permission to purchase four (4) 1920 Model K-44 Buick roadsters at $1,660 each, and one (1) 1920 Model K-49 Buick seven-passenger touring car at $1,960.

The Buick car has become the standard car for the Fire Department and is satisfactory. The price is the lowest at which they can be bought. The price asked for the roadsters is the same as asked in the last purchase approved by your Honor July 1, 1919. The price asked for the seven-passenger car is $390 more than the price of the last seven-passenger car purchased by this department in October, 1917.

In view of the above facts I request your Honor's permission to purchase, without advertising, the four roadsters at $1,660 each and the seven-passenger touring car, as described above, at $1,960, or a total contract price of eight thousand six hundred (8,600) dollars.

Yours very truly,

JOHN R. MURPHY,
Fire Commissioner.

On March 24 to Snow, Coombs and McBeath, Inc., as per following communication:

BOSTON, March 20, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,

Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I request permission to purchase, without advertising, from Snow, Coombs & McBeath, Inc., 889 Boylston street, Boston, two Ford runabouts at $603 each, making a total of twelve hundred and six (1,206) dollars.

The cars are to be used in the Fire Alarm Branch of the Fire Department.

Yours very truly,

JOHN R. MURPHY,

VETO—PENSION FOR MRS. EDWARD A. SHEA.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 19, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—I am herewith returning without my signature the resolve passed by the City Council on March 8 favoring "the enactment of legislation for the payment of a pension to the widow of Edward A. Shea, who died from injuries received at the Merrimac street fire."

It appears upon investigation that Edward A. Shea was appointed to the department April 7, 1896. He was injured on February 5, 1898, at the so-called Merrimac street fire, but no record in the department can be found to show just what his injuries were. It is a matter of record, however, that he was one of four men who were buried when the floors fell. Shea was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital and his case was diagnosed as "burn of face." It is apparent from the record at the hospital that a portion of the time before he was finally discharged he was an outpatient. He went on light house duty April 8, 1898, and was finally discharged from the hospital April 18, 1898. He resigned from the department the following winter, that is, February 25, 1899.

Mr. Shea was reappointed to the department July 14, 1899, and the following November was dishonorably discharged, the reason being continuous absence without leave since 10 a. m., August 10, 1899.

I understand that sixteen and one-half years after he was discharged he was granted a pension of $300 per annum by the operation of chapter 143 of the Acts of 1917. In view of his record, however, this fact seems to be immaterial to the present case. The main point to consider is that there is nothing in the records of the Fire Department to show that Edward A. Shea was so injured at the so-called Merrimac street fire as to justify the claim that the injury was the cause of his death. The record of the cause of his death on March 21, 1919, was "septicemia, following infection of the arm caused by injury to the elbow incidental to jactation plus general paresis."

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

WEARING OF VICTORY BUTTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 15, 1920.
To the City Council:

Gentlemen,—In connection with the order passed by the City Council on March 1 requesting that permission be granted to the members of the Police and Fire Departments for veterans to wear the Victory Button, I desire to inform you that this matter has been taken up with the Police Commissioner and the Fire Commissioner, and both have indicated their willingness to permit this to be done, but suggest that the insignia to be worn should be in the form of a pin rather than a button.

Respectfully yours,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

TRANSFER OF EAGLE HILL RESERVOIR.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, March 18, 1920.
To the City Council:
Gentlemen,—I am herewith transmitting to you copy of a communication just received from the Park and Recreation Department relative to the transfer of the custody of the Eagle Hill reservoir property in East Boston from the Public Works Department to the Park and Recreation Department, and I recommend the passage of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
ANDREW J. PETERS, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park and Recreation Department,
March 9, 1920.
Hon. Andrew J. Peters,
Mayor of Boston:

Dear Sir,—Plans are being prepared by this department for the development of Eagle Hill reservoir site in East Boston for a public playground, for which money was appropriated in May, 1917, amounting to $80,000.

The property has never been formally turned over to the department for the reason that it was necessary to construct a 30-inch water main between Chelsea and East Boston, to reinforce the East Boston water supply.

Your Honor has been advised by the Commissioner of Public Works, Thomas F. Sullivan, in his letter of January 5, 1920, that this main has been completed, and that the Public Works Department has no further use for the reservoir site.

The Board, therefore, requests that the proper orders be passed by the city government, turning the property over to this department.

Very respectfully yours,
JAMES P. SHEA, Chairman.

EMPLOYMENT OF CITIZENS OF BOSTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Law Department, March 20, 1920.

John E. Baldwin, Esq.,

Clerk of Committees:

Dear Sir,—I am writing in reply to the recent question of the Committee on Appropriations of the City Council, "whether or not any persons employed in any of the city departments who are not citizens and legal voters of Boston are illegally employed by such departments," by virtue of the following provision of section 12 of chapter 3 of the Revised Ordinances of 1914:

"Every officer in charge of a department shall employ, fix the compensation of, and may discharge for such cause as he shall deem sufficient and cause to be recorded in the records of the department, all subordinates in his department, but shall employ none but citizens, and, if male subordinates, legal voters of Boston, in any capacity."

In my opinion, the requirement for the employment of "none but citizens and, if male subordinates, legal voters of Boston in any capacity," is in contravention of the terms of Statute 1914, chapter 600.

This act authorizes the giving of preference in appointment and employment of citizens of the Commonwealth, and embraces all branches of the service of the Commonwealth and all cities and towns. Sections 1 and 2 of the act are as follows:

"Section 1. In all work of any branch of the service of the Commonwealth, or of any city or town therein, citizens of the Commonwealth shall be given preference.

"Section 2. The civil service commission shall not place upon its lists any person not a citizen of the United States."

It is to be borne in mind that appointments to positions in the official and labor service of the City of Boston are almost completely controlled by civil service laws and rules. As the provision of the ordinance in question restricts the action of the Civil Service Commission under general laws, it has been superseded by the superior authority of the state.

The conclusion seems clear that the Legislature by the enactment of chapter 600 of the Acts of 1914 intended to assume exclusively the regulation of the classification of citizenship in municipal employment either under section 1 of the act, which relates to all public service, or under section 2, which relates to such special service as comes within the provisions of civil service laws and rules.

I may add that the legality of the amendment to the original ordinance by the insertion of the provision in question was a subject of grave doubt at the time of its passage over the veto of the Mayor of the city in 1899, and that in the opinion of the then Corporation Counsel such an amendment amounted to an illegal interference by the legislative branch of the city government with the executive branch and was in violation of the provisions of the city charter which precludes the City Council from taking part in the employment of labor or the appointment of municipal employees and the conduct of the executive and administrative business of the city.

Very truly yours,

ARTHUR D. HILL,
Corporation Counsel.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

CONDITIONS AT LONG ISLAND.

The following was received:

Boston, March 19, 1920.

Mr. James T. Moriarty, President City Council:

Dear Sir,—In justice to the former Board of Trustees of the Infirmary Department and to myself, I wish to call the attention of the City Council to an erroneous statement made by the Mayor of Boston at a meeting of the City Council on Monday, the 15th inst.

He said on that occasion that because of conditions at Long Island he got rid of the old Board. The Mayor convicts himself by this statement.

The former Board repeatedly called conditions at Long Island to the Mayor's attention and asked his co-operation and assistance in righting affairs but did not receive his support. Soon after his inauguration the Board, represented by two of its members, Mr. James V. Donnaruma and Mr. Thomas E. Masterson, waited on the Mayor and told him of the state of affairs at Long Island. The Mayor at that time promised us his help and assistance, and said, "Clean out the institution, place efficiency there and I shall back you up." Taking for granted that the Mayor was sincere in his statement to us we began by discharging the superintendent but were ordered to take him back with full salary from date of his discharge. The whole procedure at that time convinced us that the Mayor was not with us. We have since then tried to get his assistance as a Board and individually. See letter, inclosed by Mr. Donnaruma, sent to the Mayor in May, 1919.

The Mayor tells me of the good work I have done as a member of the Board and stated he would write me a letter to this effect but asks me to resign. The cause of conditions remains but the Board which insists upon righting affairs at Long Island must be gotten rid of. Why?

There is no more reason for permitting neglect and indifference on an island than there is on the mainland; consequently the Mayor's blaming the location and the City Council for defeating his consolidation bill has absolutely no foundation. To me he lamented the fact that the position of superintendent is a civil service one, of which he evidently does not approve.

The Mayor has blamed all but the right man, who is the Hon. Andrew J. Peters, Mayor of Boston, who protected the superintendent, Dr. Charles E. Donlan. Why?

I ask you, Mr. President, to have my letter read at the next meeting of the City Council and order it printed in full in the City Record. It is only fair to the public. I feel such is due me after sixteen years' service on unpaid boards,—as secretary and chairman of the Infirmary Board thirteen years and three years on the Boston School Board.

Assuring you that my sole interest in the department has been to help the poor unfortunate and to serve the citizens of Boston honestly and faithfully, believe me,

Very truly yours,

MARY A. DIERKES.

Suffolk, ss.

Boston, March 19, 1920.

Personally appeared Mary A. Dierkes and made oath that the statements of fact contained in the above letter are true.

Before me,

EDWARD E. ELDER,

Notary Public.

ASSESSING DEPARTMENT.

On March 26 to Library Bureau as per following communication:

BOSTON, March 15, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—We desire your permission to make a contract with the Library Bureau, as per your verbal approval of the vote of the Board of Assessors, namely, to accept the quotation from the Library Bureau for copy of the list of persons taken by the police for the year 1920, at a cost of about $3,110, as shown in copy of letter herewith.

The cost of this work will exceed the sum paid last year by approximately $2,430, including our estimated cost for numbering of approximately $1,000. This increase is due to the additional information requested regarding persons engaged in the military or naval service of the United States, who are exempt from payment of a poll tax of $3 as provided by statute, thus enabling this department to omit such exempt person from the list to be certified to the state of persons upon whom the bonus tax of $3 is to be paid by the city.

We are informed by the chairman of the Listing Board that the Library Bureau are the lowest bidders for the work for that Board, and they are the only ones who can complete the list for this department.

On account of the above facts it will be necessary to add $2,210 to item "F, Special Items, Listing," in the budget for this year.

Respectfully,

BOARD OF ASSESSORS,
by EDWARD T. KELLY,
Chairman.

LIBRARY BUREAU,
BOSTON, March 3, 1920.

EDWARD T. KELLY, Chairman Assessing Department, Boston, Mass.:

DEAR SIR,—Confirming our quotation of February 19, made to the Listing Board, we are pleased to furnish you a triplicate copy of the sheet furnished to the Listing Board, with a check-mark against the name of every man reported in the United States Army or Navy during the World War.

The cost of this work will be $2,210. If you wish consecutive numbers placed after each name, each ward beginning with No. 1, the cost of this would be at the rate of $4 per thousand numbers.

Very truly yours,

A. W. JONES, Manager.

INFIRMARY DEPARTMENT.

On March 29 to George F. Lawley Corporation for repairs on steamer "George A. Hibbard" as per following communication:

BOSTON, March 24, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—On January 8, 1920, the steamer "George A. Hibbard" was put out of service because of trouble with her feed pumps. The Board upon inquiry learned that during the past year the boat had been out of service 96 days and hesitated to authorize repairs to feed pumps without first ascertaining the condition in general.

Mr. Thanisch of the Public Works Department made an examination, and reported to the Board his findings. The Board has a report from the engineer of the "Hibbard" and later asked for the opinion of professional experts then engaged in examination of the ferries, and still later a report was received from the expert of the Finance Commission.

The cost of putting the boat in shape ranged from $5,000 to $25,000 as set forth by the experts. As a last measure the Board sought the advice of the George F. Lawley Corporation.

On Monday, March 22, Mr. Fred Lawley appeared before the Board and stated that the "Hibbard" could be put in condition for not more than $5,000, and his best judgment was that it would cost about $4,500, and that if he were allowed to pass upon the engineer appointed by the trustees to operate the boat, he would guarantee it to remain in good condition for more than a year. He further stated that the outside cost of $5,000 did not mean that extras would be added which would bring the total cost far above that sum.

The Board has decided to award the contract for repairs to the boat to the George F. Lawley Corporation without bids, provided your Honor approves of such action.

I trust that I may have your views at a very early date.

Yours very truly,

THOMAS C. O'BRIEN,
Chairman.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Ferry Service).

On March 31 to the Atlantic Works for repairs on ferryboat "D. D. Kelley" as per following communication:

BOSTON, March 26, 1920.

To the Honorable the Mayor:

On January 23 current you authorized me to have the Atlantic Works make certain repairs to the machinery of the ferryboat "D. D. Kelley," without advertising, at an estimated cost of $1,200.

On tearing out some of this work it was found that the repairs were much more extensive than anticipated, but in order to make the boat safe for use it was necessary to carry them through to completion. I therefore ask for your approval of the bill of the Atlantic Works, which amounts to $4,019.49.

Yours respectfully,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT (Paving Service.)

On March 31 to contractors indicated in the following communication:

BOSTON, March 30, 1920.

To the Mayor of Boston:

Permission to award contracts for the construction of artificial stone sidewalks in the public streets, without advertising, to B. F. Hanrahan, The Galassi Mosaic & Tile Company, George M. Crowell and Aberthaw Construction Company is hereby requested on the grounds that these contractors are not selected by the city in the first instance, but by the abutters; and secondly, the expense of construction being divided by the city and the abutters; also because such contracts vary greatly in amounts and seldom involve one thousand (1,000) dollars.

Respectfully yours,

T. F. SULLIVAN,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

On March 25 for the purchase of horses as per following communication:

BOSTON, March 25, 1920.

HON. ANDREW J. PETERS,
Mayor of Boston:

DEAR SIR,—I respectfully recommend that I be given permission to purchase, without public advertising or making a contract therefor, about one hundred (100) horses for the Sanitary Service of the Public Works Department.

It is practically impossible to write out a specification covering more than one horse, and no dealer in horses is in a position to bid, or to contract for, delivery of one hundred (100) horses on a specification basis. The system which has been followed in the past, and which I believe is the only practicable one, is for the horse dealers to notify the two veterinarians of the Public Works Department, when a carload of horses has arrived.

The veterinaries then, as I understand it, have first choice of these horses, and are sometimes able to select two or three horses out of a carload, which is satisfactory to the department concerned.

The horses required run from sixteen hundred (1,600) to seventeen hundred (1,700) pounds each. The current market price is from $350 to $375 each, depending upon the shipment.

The department veterinaries state they have already selected about forty (40) horses from the stocks of four dealers in this city.

Attached hereto is a letter from the Commissioner of Public Works recommending purchase of the horses without advertising.

Respectfully yours,

G. J. CRONIN,
Superintendent of Supplies.

All members below the rank of lieutenant, who have served in this department for at least six full years, on April 15, 1920, are eligible to take this examination.

The applicants to take this examination will be divided into classes. Class No. 1 will take the examination in the morning at 9 o'clock and Class No. 2 in the afternoon at 1.30 o'clock. Members of the department who intend to take the examination are warned to report to the Department of Civil Service and Registration at the hours mentioned above.

Application blanks may be obtained by applying in person or by letter at the office of the Department of Civil Service and Registration, Rooms 148-152, State House. Only the first two sheets of the application need be filled out, and should be filed with the Department of Civil Service on or before April 8, 1920.

The following points regarding the examination are given out by the Department of Civil Service and Registration for the information of the applicants:

A. System of Marking.—Six years eligible, 65; six years at 2 per cent a year, 12; three years at 1½ per cent a year, 4.5.

In estimating a man's length of service the unit shall be six months.

Zone A at one half per year. Zone B at one third per year. Zone C at one sixth per year.

Length of zone service credited will correspond with and not exceed the period of eligibility plus the period for which credit is given for seniority as outlined above. Credit for zone service will be based upon the years immediately preceding the examination. In estimating zone service the unit will be six months.

Commendations.—Ordinary commendations (such as responding to alarms on days off or other meritorious acts), 1; high commendations, 2; special commendations, 3; roll of merit, 4; Fitzgerald Medal, 5.

Only commendations stated in department orders will be recognized. All commendations received since becoming a member of the department will be recognized.

Aid to the chief, one per year, maximum 5, provided not more than five years have elapsed since such service ceased. Senior man (six months), 1; senior man (one year), 2.

Applicants are advised to answer every question on their experience sheets fully and correctly. Particular attention is called to Questions 8 and 9. Failure to do this may mean that an applicant's name will not go upon the eligible list when such list is established. The establishment of the list will not be delayed to straighten out any difficulties caused by applicant's failure to comply with these requirements.

B. Subjects of Examination.—Experience, 13; report or general order, 4; practical questions on fire fighting, fire prevention, and rules and regulations of the department, 8. Total, 25.

Each applicant must bring his own pen-holder, pen, blotter, pencil, eraser and ink. Days off for April 14 and 15 will start at 8 a. m.

Changes in days off must be made so that only those taking the examination will go on day off April 15, and only so many will go on day off as the strength of the different companies will permit. The members will be divided into morning and afternoon classes and so notified by their officers.

The remainder, who are not granted a day off and are to take the examination, will be relieved from all duty during the examination periods for that purpose and shall be equally divided into morning and afternoon classes.

Meal periods may be changed in order to permit these arrangements, so that at all times the numerical strength of the companies will be sufficient.

Places of examination will be announced later.
